Quoted by The King

First picture of Miss M. L. Haskins, novelist, poet and social science teacher of Crowborough, Sussex, England, who was quoted by the King at the end of his Christmas Day broadcast to the Empire. The poem containing the quotation is entitled "God Knows," and is included in a collection of short poems called "The Desert," which Miss Haskins wrote before the World War and printed privately in aid of an Indian charity. The King's quotation from Miss Haskins' poem follows: "Go out into the darkness and put your hand into the hand of God. That shall be to you better than light, and safer than the known way."

Final Bulletins

'INVADERS' LAND IN CALIFORNIA

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—An outnumbered defence force was shattered and driven into defeat today in the "battle" of Monterey Bay by an "enemy" which landed 1,500 men through the surf and docked a big transport in the harbor.

The intelligence service of the defending "Blue" army admitted this afternoon the "Black" enemy strategy had been successful in this phase of the joint United States army-navy war manoeuvres on the California coast.

The sky was full of planes and the big batteries of six battleships added to the din.

Danish Ship Sunk

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Owners of the Danish vessel Canadian Reefer, 1,831 tons, announced tonight it had been sunk off Cape Finisterre on the northwestern coast of Spain. The crew of 26 was rescued and taken to a Spanish port. Cause of the sinking was not given.

The Canadian Reefer sailed from Los Angeles last November 29 for Casablanca, Genoa and Alexandria.

Trenches in Stockholm

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Stockholm authorities announced late today air raid precautions will be extended to digging trenches in public parks and construction of additional sandbag shelters in a number of market places.

This evidence that Sweden is taking precautions not to be caught unprepared against attack follows construction of a number of larger underground shelters, each accommodating thousands.

Expel Communists

PARIS (AP)—The Senate late today adopted, 294 to 4, a bill to expel from office all Communists who failed to disavow the outlawed Communist Party. This completed parliamentary action.

Pro-Nazi Disciplined

MONTEVIDEO (CP)—Dr. Walter Meerhoff, pro-Nazi Uruguayan physician of German descent, today was suspended as an official eye specialist because of his insistence the British Navy used poison gas in the battle which forced the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee into Montevideo harbor, finally to be scuttled.

Dr. Meerhoff took exception January 12 to the official report returned by a health ministry committee declaring there was no evidence to support the German charges. The physician claimed 14 of the Graf Spee's crew were suffering from poison gas.

HEPBURN WRONG, SAYS AIR LEADER

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—Wing Commander R. Collis, acting commander of the Royal Canadian Air Force technical training centre there, this afternoon denied an allegation made by Premier Mitchell Hepburn in the Ontario Legislature that there was a near riot at the training centre because of conditions.

"Everyone down here is happy," the wing commander said. "There is no truth whatever in assertions there was anything resembling a riot here."

"There was merely the anxiety of some of the men concerning dependents because their allowances were not paid until shortly before Christmas. But all this has been rectified now."

May Omit Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull hinted today Bermuda might be omitted as a point of call if British authorities continued to censor mail on clipper planes making a stop at the island.

Mr. Hull gave this indication as something which might be considered as a last resort. His comment followed receipt of word that mailbags on the clipper ship touching Bermuda en route to Europe had been taken off for censoring.

She Wants $1,000,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Dancer Miriam Verne filed a $1,000,000 libel action today against Life magazine and Bernard Lansing, a writer.

She complained that her chances of marrying were "materially lessened" and her career virtually ruined as a result of an article in the magazine depicting her as having danced a "strip tease" before Adolf Hitler.

Plane Believed Downed

LONDON (CP)—A British statement tonight said a lone German Heinkel bomber was badly damaged after a fight with a patrolling Royal Air Force fighter over the sea off Aberdeen early this afternoon.

The statement said the Heinkel's rear gunner was out of action and the ship was slackening speed when it disappeared towards the sea.

Jew Jumps Overboard

NEW YORK (AP)—Passengers arriving here this afternoon on the British liner Scythia told of the suicide of Manfred Bender, a Jewish merchant who had been "unable" to recover from "the nightmare of a concentration camp." Bender jumped overboard.

Finns Pursue Retreating Soviet Army In North

HELSINGFORS (AP)—The Finns tonight reported capture of "a few enemy positions" northeast of Lake Ladoga and the wiping out of a Russian detachment of five officers and 45 men on the eastern front near Ilomants.

The high command also announced that Swedish volunteer airmen had taken part with the Finns during the past week in bombing Russian camps and columns.

The army's announcement, covering yesterday's events, said a battle had continued throughout the day at Markajarvi, where Finns were reported to have caught up with 40,000 Russians in retreat above the Arctic Circle.

Widespread Russian air raids yesterday, the communique said, involved about 250 planes over the Karelian Isthmus and the war zone and about 450 over the whole country, but the casualties were only one dead and four wounded.

The raiders returned again today and the Helsingfors population spent an hour in shelters while anti-aircraft batteries shelled the craft.

Available information indicated the attackers failed to reach the city but dropped bombs a short distance outside. Fires were visible in the distance.

Other dispatches today described how Russia's Salla army was reported engaged by the Finns at Markajarvi, within the Arctic Circle. The Red forces were said to be covering the retreat of 40,000 men toward the Russian border, 50 miles away.

Whether the main body of Russians was engaged was not clear. Foreign military observers read into the reports a suggestion of major developments in the early future.

It was in this sector that the Russians drove deepest into Finland, reaching a point only 18 miles from the railroad of Kemijarvi, strategic northern centre that was their immediate objective.

The sudden retreat apparently caught the Finns flat-footed momentarily.

They had expressed belief the Russians would at least dig in for the winter and hold well-fortified lines in their effort to separate northern and southern Finland.

Thus the withdrawal was well under way before the Finns set out in pursuit.

The retreat apparently began Sunday, the Finns said, reporting they were puzzled at first by the quiet of the Russian lines. Cautious reconnaissance by ski patrols disclosed the enemy had departed.

Nova Scotia Session

HALIFAX (CP)—The Nova Scotia Legislature will open its 1940 session March 5. It will be the third session of the 18th Legislature since Confederation.

Bitter Cold Wave Sweeps East U.S.; Reaches Far South

CHICAGO (AP)—The bitter cold wave of the winter penetrated deep into the eastern half of the United States today, sweeping over western New York with a storm that approached blizzard proportions.

Temperatures sank below zero in Michigan, Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and freezing temperatures were recorded in every state in the south.

At a mountain camp near Huntsville, Ala., inhabitants stared at thermometers which read 8 degrees below zero.

A reading of 3 below at Memphis, Tenn., was the lowest since 1918, and temperatures through the south were generally lower than any time in the past four years.

Driven before a 36-mile-an-hour wind, the worst storm of the season almost paralyzed traffic over a large section of New York State. The average temperature in three western counties was 12 below zero, while at Watertown more than two feet of snow had fallen since yesterday.

TRAFFIC HELD UP
Traffic was halted in the Watertown vicinity, many village schools were closed and trains ran behind schedule. A reading of 10 below at Jamestown was the coldest in 10 years.

An ice jam in the Niagara River curtailed most of the flow over the Canadian and American Falls.

In Michigan the temperature dropped as far as 20 below zero at Jackson. Ohio readings ranged from 20 below at Greenville to 10 below at Youngstown. The weather was generally clear.

Sub-zero readings were reported from every section of Kentucky—18 below at Owensboro in the west, 14 below at Louisville and from 12 to 16 below around the Cincinnati area, where the Ohio River was frozen from bank to bank.

A light snow covered most of Virginia, crusted by temperatures which ranged from zero in the upper Shenandoah Valley to 20 above at Danville in the extreme south.

Maryland temperatures dropped sharply last night, reaching 13 below at Big Savage in the Western Mountains, but they were moderating today.

There was light snow in southern New England, where ground temperatures ranged down to 17 below zero.

Borah Sinking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator William E. Borah was reported this afternoon to be growing steadily weaker. Death seemed a question of "minutes or hours" for the veteran isolationist of the United States Upper House.

"There is not a chance," said Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky after a call on the wife of his Republican colleague.

The 74-year-old legislator has been in a virtually continuous coma since a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday.

JOURNALIST SCORES BRITISH CENSORS

LEICESTER, Eng. (CP)—J. W. T. Ley, president of the National Union of Journalists, criticized the government today for what he termed "too much suppression of news since the war began."

He told the annual meeting of the union: "It is not enough to say that a newspaper is free in this country to criticize the government. It is not free to do anything of the kind if the government withholds from it news of national interest."

Mr. Ley urged the delegates to share with all other sections of the newspaper world an unceasing vigil on the ministry of information and to resist the tendencies to bureaucratic control "until perhaps the day will come when there shall be in charge a man who understands something about the collecting, selection and disseminating of news."

(Sir John Reith, formerly head of Imperial Airways and the British Broadcasting Corporation, was appointed minister of information January 5 in place of Lord Macmillan.)

FRENCH NEWSMEN SEE CANADIANS

By EDWIN JOHNSON
ALDERSHOT (CP)—A group of prominent French newspaper proprietors and executives today paid their respects to Major-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Active Service Force, at headquarters of the First Canadian Division.

In the party were Jacques de Marsillac, Le Journal, Paris; Charles Houssaye, Havas News Agency; Jacques Chastenet, Le Temps; Pierre Brissot, Figaro, and Emile Gaubert, provincial newspapers.

The informal call on the Canadian area was made during the Frenchmen's visit to the Aldershot command as guests of the British Council. They came in cars flying French tricolor pennants. At Canadian headquarters the newspapermen asked for special permission to meet the French-speaking unit of the division—the 22nd Battalion.

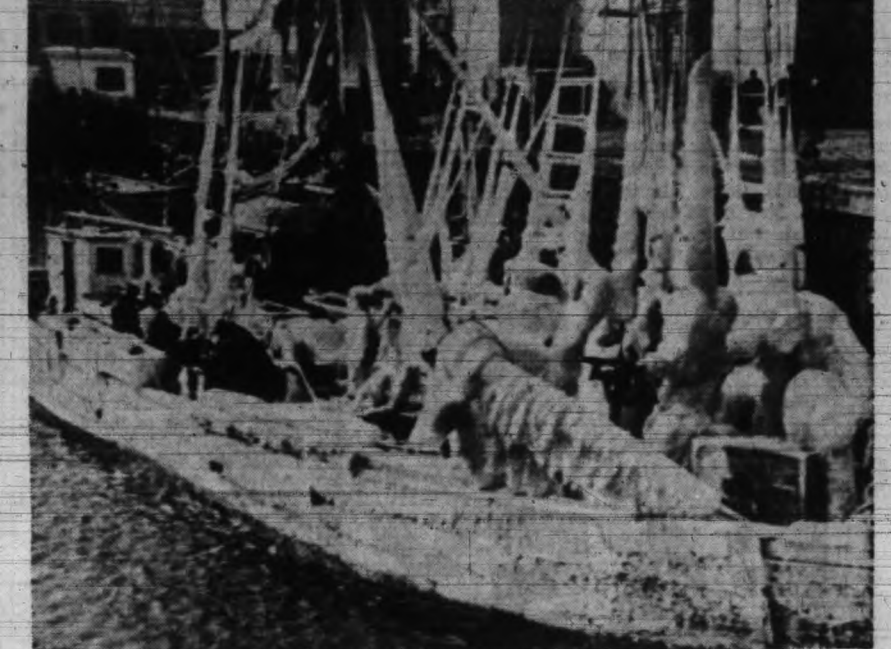

They arrived at the parade ground as the men were going through the vigorous routine of daily physical training.

After the drill display the visitors moved freely among the troops, chatting with men in French.

During lunch as guests of Lieut. Gen. Charles Broad, general officer commanding the Aldershot command, they heard more about the activities of the Canadian division generally from Gen. McNaughton, who was there with a group of his senior staff officers.

Sunday Fine
NANAIMO (CP)—Police Magistrate C. H. Beevor-Potts today held valid a Nanaimo-by-law prohibiting places of amusement remaining open between 11.45 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday and fined Pygmy Recreations Limited $10 for operating a New Year's Eve dance on Sunday evening, December 31.

A similar charge was dismissed in police court here seven years ago when the magistrate decided the city-by-law was ultra vires.

'Best for Public Judges Retire at 75,' Says Chief

OTTAWA (Special)—In view of the controversy between the Hon. Archer Martin, Chief Justice of British Columbia, and the Hon. Aulay Morrison, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, over judges retiring at 75, reference was made today to Chief Justice Martin's letter to the Minister of Justice, which was placed before the cabinet meeting.

Chief Justice Martin sets out that he is retiring "in pursuance of my view, formed many years ago and officially and continuously expressed since then, that, upon principle, it is best in the public interest, for many reasons, that the judges of the provincial courts should voluntarily retire at the age of 75 years, being the same age that the judges of the national courts are automatically retired at by statute." His own retirement will take effect on May 6, the day he attains the age of 75.

Following Chief Justice Martin's statement early this week, Chief Justice Morrison announced that despite being two years over the 75, he had no intention of retiring and accepting pension money from the government "without in some measure earning it," no matter what his "brother Martin" did.

EXPLAINS LEAVE OF ABSENCE

In his letter, which was the signal for the start of an intense campaign of political manoeuvring here over the appointment of his successor, Chief Justice Martin says that his leave of absence as from February 6 next "will be nominal only, because I shall continue to be in daily attendance at my chambers and my time will be fully occupied therewith in closing up my official affairs after so long and still active an incumbency of office, which on May 6 next will be a period of nearly 42 years, being by many years the longest judicial career in the history of British Columbia."

"Under ordinary circumstances," the Chief Justice adds, "after so long a judicial service, and still actively engaged therein, I would be entitled by established custom, to six months' leave of absence, since I am retiring on principle and not because I am unable to discharge my duties for reasons of health, or otherwise; on the contrary, a kind Providence has bestowed upon me the inestimable blessing of good health, which I still gratefully enjoy, to such a degree that for 28 years I have never failed for even one day to be at the law courts when the duties of my office required my attendance there."

Death for Hoarding

MOSCOW (AP)—The first death sentence to be meted out in the numerous recent trials for food hoarding was reported in the Tajik Republic by the newspaper Communist Tajikistan, received here today.

The manager of a food store was ordered shot for hoarding food and two accomplices were given prison terms.

Constitutional Change

Canada May End Privy Council Appeals Says Court

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament is within its rights in moving to abolish appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London from the judgments of Canadian courts in civil and constitutional matters, a majority of the Supreme Court of Canada decided today.

The court last June heard arguments on a reference from the Dominion government which asked its opinion as to whether Parliament was competent to enact a bill such as that presented last session by Hon. C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George, Montreal. It answered in the affirmative with two judges dissenting, one completely and one in part.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff was with the majority, which also included Mr. Justice A. B. Hudson, Mr. Justice Patrick Kerwin and Mr. Justice T. Rinfret.

The dissenters were Mr. Justice O. S. Crocket and Mr. Justice H. H. Davis. The former held the Cahan bill was wholly beyond the powers of the federal parliament.

Mr. Justice Davis took the view the Cahan bill would be within the powers of Parliament if it were amended to provide that it should not affect the rights of any province in respect of any civil action started in a provincial court and concerned solely with matters over which the provincial Legislature had exclusive jurisdiction.

The case was one of the most important constitutional issues to come before the court in recent years. At present appeals may be taken to the Judicial Committee from the judgments of Canadian courts in civil, but not in criminal cases. No appeal in a criminal case has been heard for many years.

For the past two sessions of Parliament Mr. Cahan has sponsored a bill in the House of Commons.

UPHOLDS OTTAWA
The four opposing provincial governments appeared at the hearing of the reference last June to argue against the validity of the Cahan bill.

Manitoba submitted a brief supporting the Dominion claim and the other provinces, namely, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec and Prince Island, were not represented.

The B.C. government took part in the reference before the Supreme Court of Canada on the question of abolishing Privy Council appeals.

Col. Eric Pepler, deputy Attorney-General, represented the provinces. B.C. joined Ontario, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick in the argument that Parliament did not have the power to abolish appeals. Their contention was that such a change could not be made without consultation with the provinces.

No comment was made today, however, on the Supreme Court's decision.

Wheat Estimate

OTTAWA (CP)—The third estimate of Canada's 1939 wheat crop, released today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, increased the crop total by 10,658,000 bushels from last November's estimate. Today's estimate was 489,623,000 bushels for all Canada.

The estimate of the wheat production in the prairie provinces was increased by 11,000,000 bushels to 463,000,000 bushels.

The prairie provinces increases were to some extent offset by reduction in the estimates of the spring wheat crop in Quebec and the Maritimes and a drop in the estimate of all the wheat crop in Ontario.

The estimate of the oat crop for Canada was reduced from the November figure by 1,523,000 bushels to 384,407,000 bushels.

Japanese Defeated In Canton Battles
HONGKONG (AP)—Chinese officials today declared a series of Japanese defeats in Kwangtung province had resulted in virtual encirclement of Canton, chief city of south China, by advancing Chinese armies.

The Chinese asserted Japanese outer lines defending Canton were "crumbling" and that the Japanese had met in Kwangtung one of their most serious reverses of the war.

The Japanese began a retreat from Yingtak, 80 miles north of Canton. Since then they have been pushed back more than 50 miles. The Chinese say their line now forms an arc with its western extremity only 18 miles from Canton and the centre and left only 25 miles from the city.

Ruling Upholds Insurance Surveys

OTTAWA (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada today substantially upheld the finding of the Exchequer Court that insurance survey plans are copyrighted. "The judgment is another step in lengthy litigation arising out of the use of survey plans in fire insurance business in Canada."

The Exchequer Court had found that the Canadian Underwriters' Association, an association of tariff fire insurance companies, had the copyright on these plans which have been developed over several decades, and their use by non-affiliated companies, that is companies outside the association, was an infringement of the copyright. The Exchequer Court granted an injunction against Massie and Renwick Ltd., fire insurance company named in a test case, restraining the company from using these plans.

The Supreme Court supported the Exchequer Court ruling, except that it found that ration material brought into existence after January 1, 1924, was not copyrighted by the association because the association, unincorporated and having a fluctuating membership, was not then in a position to be the proprietor of a copyright.

Danes to Defend Their Neutrality

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The lower house of Denmark's Parliament voted overwhelmingly today its approval of a declaration that the country intends to maintain and defend its neutrality.

The declaration was framed by the six largest political parties in the country, partly to offset an impression abroad that Denmark would not resist an attack on its territorial integrity.

The vote was 135 to 9, but there was one abstention. Jens Moeller, elected by the German minority in Schleswig, refrained as he customarily does in matters involving Danish foreign policy on the grounds he is not Danish. He is the lone German minority member in Denmark's lower house.

Even the three Communist members in the lower house joined in the vote of approval.

The chairman of the Communist group, Axel Larsen, complained only that the declaration had been framed without the knowledge or consent of his party.

Premier Thordvald Stauning presented the declaration to the House for approval with a statement the cabinet "wholly agreed" with it.

Speaking briefly, the Premier said the proposal was understandable in this time of "serious events which also are leaving their imprint on the northern countries."

MUNITIONS BLAST NOT SABOTAGE

LONDON (CP) — Although Scotland Yard's sabotage squad worked on the case, the government today denied there was reason to suspect that sabotage caused yesterday's explosions which killed five persons and injured 30 at the Waltham Abbey munitions plant.

The Home Office and Ministry of Supply issued a communique which said: "On information at present available there is no reason to suspect these explosions were caused by sabotage. The whole matter is being investigated by an official committee of inquiry."

The third blast in 24 hours partly destroyed a wall around a carpentry shop at Croydon today.

The explosion, believed to be an accident, occurred when a boiler in the Croydon carpentry shop blew up. It was heard over a quarter-mile radius. There were no victims.

The Press Association previously had said authorities had received anonymous information several days ago that "accidents might happen" in the Royal Gunpowder Factory, 12 miles north of London, and others in various parts of England.

One Scotland Yard expert went to Waltham Abbey to check the tip and inspect safeguards against leakage of information.

Hertzog Wants Vote On Neutrality

CAPETOWN, South Africa (CP) — General J. B. M. Hertzog, whose opposition to South Africa's declaration of war against Germany led to his resignation as prime minister September 6, continued his fight for neutrality today as parliament opened a new session.

He gave notice he would offer the following motion in the House of Assembly next Tuesday: "This house is of the opinion that the time has come for the state of war against Germany to be ended and peace be restored."

In the speech from the throne, read by the Governor-General, Sir Patrick Duncan, it was intimated the government would ask parliament for broader war powers. Approval will be sought for war measures already put into force.

As the new session opened political circles predicted the government of General Jan Smuts would command a safe majority when the Hertzog motion is put to a vote. When General Smuts, then minister of justice, split with Prime Minister Hertzog in the first few days of the war, Hertzog was defeated by a margin of 13 votes. It is believed the Smuts majority now may be as high as 18 votes.

5 Die In Texas Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Five persons were burned fatally here early today when fire swept a small farm residence. The dead: Tom Ruiz; Joe and Peter Hernandez; Edmundo Guzman and his wife, Dolores. All the victims except Guzman perished in the blaze. He died in a hospital six hours later.

Winch Scores Prison System

The Canadian prison system was so wrongly conducted "that you might just as well put up signs over our prisons reading, 'Abandon Hope All Ye Who Enter,'" said E. E. Winch, C.C.F. member in the British Columbia Legislature, during the course of a lengthy address last night.

He was addressing members of the Victoria John Howard Society, gathered for their annual meeting in the Y.W.C.A. The function of the society is to aid prisoners after they have served their sentences.

The Canadian way to cure criminals was punishment Mr. Winch said. They spent most of their time in their cells. What work they had to do was of little or no value to them when they were free again to mix with society. The American prison system, on the other hand, the speaker continued, was conducted to enable the prisoner to rehabilitate himself when he had served his "time." He was given many comforts in prison and taught trades that would enable him to make a legitimate living when society again accepted him.

Unless criminals came out of prison better citizens, society had failed. In British Columbia they came out, worse criminals than when they went in, and he produced figures to back it up, showing where three out of every four of those sentenced to prison in British Columbia in 1939 had been sent back for repeat sentences.

Mr. Winch's topic was "Making the Punishment Fit the Criminal."

Sending men to prison for such minor offences as vagrancy and drunkenness was a crime to be chalked against society, the speaker said. Drug addicts and prostitutes could not be cured by prison terms. These were cases that could be remedied at places where proper care could be given. Their place was not in prison.

The speaker said he had been in courts in every capacity, even as a defendant, and had come to the conclusion that the average defendant didn't have a chance. There was the wrong atmosphere, certain kinds of counsel attacking unmercifully to get convictions.

He dealt at some length with the influence of heredity and environment in the making of a good citizen or a criminal, and asserted the economic factor was now recognized to be the dominating influence in life.

Toronto Labor Body Ousts Communists

TORONTO (CP) — For the first time in several years the Toronto District Labor Council is without a Communist member on any of its important administrative committees.

Clearing house at the annual election meeting, 801 voting members pooled their votes in an overwhelming anti-Communist block and when the votes were counted Communist candidates were ousted from all their committee seats.

Results of the balloting showed the Toronto Firefighters' Association, the Musical Protective Association and the Joint Tacticians' Council voted solidly anti-Communist "all along the line." The Communists also tasted their first defeat in the council when by a vote of 52 to 46 the Labor body refused to support the Labor candidature of Fred Collins, self-admitted Communist. Collins lost his seat on the council executive board.

Nazis and Reds Smuggle

WARSAW (AP) — German and Soviet authorities are alarmed by smuggling along the new German-Soviet Russian frontier. Even barbed wire and the guns of numerous guards have not stopped it.

American dollars change hands under most hazardous conditions. They are wanted by Polish Jews on the German side to pay for tickets to other countries. They will pay as high as 7,000 zlotys for a one hundred bill or 4,000 for $100 in gold. At the official rate $40 zlotys are the equivalent of $100.

Sugar is another favorite for smugglers. The Russians are happy to get Polish sugar.

Dies at Funeral

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Marcus, 66, attended a funeral service here yesterday for a fellow lodge brother.

A few minutes later he was carried to the same funeral parlor—dead.

Mr. Marcus collapsed in an automobile as the funeral procession left for the cemetery and died before medical aid could be summoned. He had been ill for some time.

PLANS TO RULE OVER CHINA

—Wang Ching-wei, former Chinese premier, will head Japanese-dominated "national" government for China at Shanghai. His regime would purport to represent "the real interests of China" as a part of Japan's effort to undermine authority and influence of present Chinese government at Chungking.

Firing at Sylt Remains Mystery; No R.A.F. Raid

LONDON (CP) — Sylt, Germany's base for mine-laying seaplanes, provided a new mystery of war today as Danish reports of violent anti-aircraft fire and explosions, and even of heavy fire of warships, brought authentic denials in London that British aircraft or naval forces had been engaged in the area.

It was officially denied that R.A.F. planes had been over Sylt and it was also stated in London the French air force had not been raiding there either.

Naval circles said they had no knowledge of any bombardment by British warships in the Sylt zone. A spokesman also ruled out a suggestion that the fleet arm may have been in action.

It was pointed out here that the heavy gunfire heard may have been due to intense practice shelling by German artillery and anti-aircraft units. The Germans held many such exercises near the Freisian Islands before the war and may be continuing them now.

The latest report of a "raid" was the second from Denmark within eight days. Each time official denials that R.A.F. warplanes were involved have been issued by the air ministry.

25 YEARS AFTER

The Danish dispatches, from Toendern, came 25 years to the day after the first German zeppelins dived from the North Sea to bomb points in England in the first great war.

According to the Toendern dispatches, the first attack on German sea bases was believed to have come about 6 p.m. (9 a.m. Thursday P.S.T.) when a half-hour of anti-aircraft fire was heard on the Danish coast, near Sylt and only 65 miles from Germany's Heligoland base.

Three hours later Danish observers saw five bombers which they believed to be British fly over Sylt to the accompaniment of gunfire and five explosions which sounded like bombs. Sylt has been raided several times by British aircraft engaged in "security patrol" to checkmate German mine-laying and scouting planes at their takeoff points.

The present aerial warfare with Germany is a far cry from the zeppelin raids of a quarter century ago. This war in the skies is being fought with tremendously faster and more heavily armed planes, and dirigibles have found no place in the struggle.

On the night of January 19, 1915, two of the lighter-than-air craft with which Germany pioneered bombed eight towns along the Norfolk coast. Twenty-four bombs accounted for four deaths and injury to 16 persons.

ORIGIN OF BLACKOUT

Those raids gave birth to the blackout because the towns' hardest hit were those which showed the most lights. Coastal defences were skimpier in those days.

Now—after four and one-half months of the new war—Britain is armed not only with a strict blackout, but clusters of fighting planes, anti-aircraft guns, sentry balloons moored to barges and small boats offshore and balloon barrages inland.

Although most Britons still are "air raid conscious," fewer and fewer are carrying gas mask kits.

Society Urges Prison Reforms

H. G. Wyatt was re-elected president of the Victoria John Howard Society, formed to help criminals after their release from prison, last night at the annual meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, was named honorary president.

Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell was returned as case-worker and treasurer and Mrs. Alan Campbell as secretary. The executive committee is composed of Mrs. D. M. Baillie, Rev. Fred Comley, Dean Spencer Elliott, Mrs. Irene Baird, Miss D. Yates, Rev. Emily M. Smiley, Joseph McKenna, Rev. J. L. W. McLean, Magr. A. G. Baker and Mr. Wyatt.

Unanimous endorsement was given a resolution to be forwarded to Ottawa that due to the large increase in criminals in Canada, especially among that class of youth between 16 and 20 years of age, reform measures suggested in the findings of the royal commission, named in 1936 to look into Canada's penal system, be carried out as soon as possible.

Mrs. Mitchell, in giving a resume of the society's work during 1939, said that 520 cases were heard and dealt with by her in the society's clubrooms during the year. Most of the persons that called were transients who travel from coast to coast seeking work, Mrs. Mitchell said. This was a marked increase in the number of cases dealt with over previous years.

Mrs. Mitchell emphasized that many of the persons who called on her did not desire charity and did not want to beg. They wished to secure work to take care of their needs.

The society operated on the $300 given it by the Community Chest, but Mrs. Mitchell pointed out that more funds were needed to keep the society going. "We simply cannot manage with $300," she said. The society had been extremely busy during the last three months.

Sincere thanks to the Community Chest and other organizations who had aided the society was expressed by Mrs. Mitchell, who in turn was highly commended by the president for her untiring efforts.

Recess in Inquest At Aberdeen, Wash.

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP) — Grays Harbor prosecuting attorneys, who obtained a 17-day recess in the inquest on the death of Mrs. Laura Lay, resumed quiet investigation today of the slaying of the wife of a Congress of Industrial Organizations union labor leader.

The inquest was abandoned late yesterday until February 5 at the request of Deputy Prosecutor Paul O. Manley, who asked for more time to develop additional evidence.

Final witness before adjournment was the slain woman's husband, Dick Lay, who testified he believed his wife was "the victim of forces seeking to destroy labor."

French Capture Several Prisoners

PARIS (CP-Havas) — German troops have resumed the patrol activity suspended because of the extreme cold of the past few days, military authorities said today.

A German detachment of about 20 men attacked a French outpost in a wooded sector of the Vosges Mountains yesterday. After a sharp skirmish conducted mainly with grenades, the Germans were forced to retreat, leaving several prisoners behind in the hands of the French.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN (AP) — The German supreme command's communique this morning said: "No special events."

Weaker Beer

LONDON (CP) — Discussions between the ministry of food and the brewing industry over need of conserving supplies of barley threatened today to make the war serious for Britain's man-in-the-blackout.

The shortage of barley for feeding livestock may result in a decision to lower the strength of beer.

HALIFAX (CP) — Apples sent overseas by the people and the government of Nova Scotia reached the British Expeditionary Force in France in time for Christmas, according to a letter just received by Lieutenant Governor Robert Irwin from Captain A. R. Smith of the Royal Engineers.

Captured Seamen Kept Like Slaves

LONDON (CP) — Three hundred or more British seamen captured at sea were imprisoned aboard a German tanker in conditions "recalling the days of slave traders," an official statement declared today. The incident occurred when the tanker was a supply ship for the Nazi battleship Graf Spee.

Naval sources said the tanker had not been reported for more than a month, and while a search for her was being pressed, it was possible she might have reached a German port.

Conditions on the tanker were described by British merchant skippers who were liberated from the Admiral Graf Spee when she was trapped in Montevideo harbor last month. They arrived here this week.

The statement asserted the prison quarters were crowded, rations insufficient, smoking forbidden and British officers humiliated before East India crewmen, who "were given preferential treatment at every turn."

It said the prisoners were forced to sleep on mattresses covered with lice and other vermin.

The food, it added, was "scarce and bad" and the water ration for drinking and washing was a quart daily.

When the Admiral Graf Spee ran into Montevideo harbor, December 13, after a running battle with three British cruisers, she surrendered 62 British seamen taken from nine raided merchantmen.

Soon afterward the Graf Spee was sunk by her own crew.

Brooke-Popham Goes to Calgary

VANCOUVER (CP) — Having completed a whirlwind visit to the B.C. coast, Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, head of the British Air Mission to Canada, was en route by train today to Calgary.

Sir Robert spent 24 hours in Vancouver, inspecting Royal Canadian Air Force facilities here. Storms over the Rockies delayed his flight from Lethbridge to here for several days and prevented him from making an intended visit to Victoria.

In an address to a combined luncheon meeting of the United Services and Canadian clubs here yesterday, he likened the war to a "crusade—a crusade of right against wrong," and said the Allies must be ready to make their "supreme effort" at any moment.

2 Broadcasts Briefly Off Air

SEATTLE (AP) — Abbreviated strikes of technicians for wage increases and a closed shop took two Seattle radio stations off the air temporarily late yesterday.

Station KIRO was silent for 22 minutes until technicians agreed to return to work while officials of the Electrical Workers' Brotherhood, American Federation of Labor affiliate, conferred with company officials.

Station KOL was off the air for 20 minutes before service was resumed in the absence of the striking men. Both stations are on national chains.

INQUIRY URGED ON COUGHLIN'S ACTS

NEW YORK (AP) — A committee of 16, headed by Prof. Harold C. Urey of Columbia University, Nobel Prize winner in chemistry, has asked the United States government to investigate any connection Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, might have had with the Christian front.

Father Coughlin, who last summer praised the work of John F. Cassidy, a leader of the front, disclaimed any relationship with the organization after Cassidy and 16 of his followers were arrested a few days ago on charges of plotting to overthrow the government.

The request for an investigation was sent to Attorney General Robert Jackson and to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Members of the committee include Robert W. Searle, general secretary of the Greater New York Federation of Churches; Dean Christian Gauss of Princeton University; Dr. Guy Emery Shipley, editor of the Churchman, and Prof. Franz Boaz, the noted anthropologist.

"It appears to have been in response to Father Coughlin's urgent call for formation of 'platoons' that the Christian Front was formed," they said in telegrams to the officials. "He publicly praised the heroism and zeal of the Christian Front. On several occasions he has given open encouragement to Cassidy."

BLOEDEL MILL ON HALF-TIME

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — Great Central Lake operations of Bloedel Stewart and Welch Lumber Company here went on half-time this week. A company official said "lack of ships" to carry lumber now stored for export was responsible.

An agreement and by-law providing for exchange of property between the city of Port Alberni and the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company was being drafted today. Under the proposed agreement, the city will get two additional gazetted roads and shore rights from the company and the company will obtain additional land for storage facilities.

The British Columbia government office here reported today 18 leases have been taken out by Seattle interests on mineral claims in the Clayoquot area.

Port Alberni Women's Service Club is sponsoring a movement to establish a sailors' institute here.

Port Alberni City is ordering a new grader and cement mixer from a Vancouver firm.

Canadian Envoy To South Africa

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Henry Laureys of Montreal will go as Canadian High Commissioner to the Union of South Africa. With this appointment announced by Prime Minister King, Canada now is represented in the capitals of all members of the British Commonwealth.

Widely known as an economist and administrator, he was largely responsible for the development of the school of higher commercial studies in Montreal, of which he became dean in 1916.

Born in Belgium in 1882, Dr. Laureys was educated at Louvain University and came to Canada in 1911, when he was appointed to the staff of the commercial school. As part of his work he organized and directed the Commercial and Industrial Museum of Montreal. In 1914 he became a Canadian citizen.

Dr. Laureys was for some time director-general of technical education for Quebec province and is a past president of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce. He speaks English, French and Dutch and has written several books and pamphlets on economic subjects.

Dr. Laureys retired as dean of the School of Higher Commercial Studies in 1937, and since then has been engaged in private business.

He traveled widely about the world between 1906 and 1910 as professor on the Belgian government's training ship.

In 1933, Dr. Laureys was invested with the Order of Polonia Restituta by the Polish government for services in the realm of economics. Three years later the French government named him an officer of the Legion of Honor for accomplishments on behalf of French culture in Canada.

Dr. Laureys is married to a Canadian, the former Lulu Tanguay of Quebec City.

Lefebvre Nominated

VANCOUVER (CP)—W. W. Lefebvre, British Columbia president of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, has been nominated as candidate in the Vancouver Centre federal riding.

Mr. Lefebvre was nominated six months ago with the stipulation that if a federal election was not held within six months a new nominating convention would be called.

The other nominees, Mrs. E. Kerr and Garfield King, withdrew their names in favor of Mr. Lefebvre at the second convention here this week.

Premier King Will Answer Hepburn Attack in House

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King will reserve his comments on the Ontario Legislature's motion criticizing the Dominion government's war effort until Parliament is in session.

He stated he believed "the proper time and place to discuss government policy with respect to Canada's war effort is when the representatives of the people from all parts of Canada are assembled in their Parliament."

"Parliament, as all are aware, will meet a week hence (January 25). Meanwhile the government does not intend to permit Canada's war effort in the present war to be prejudiced by fostering any controversy which does not permit of the most complete presentation and consideration of all relevant facts."

The capital learned of Premier Hepburn's renewal of his attacks on the federal administration with considerable interest, but it was viewed comparatively mildly on Parliament Hill and scarcely ranked as a political sensation.

Mr. Mackenzie King was advised about the action of the Legislature following a cabinet meeting last yesterday afternoon, but was too busy in his East Block office to consider the matter until late at night, when he met newspapermen.

EFFECT ON WATERWAYS

Parliament Hill's keenest speculation concerned the effect the new breach might have on negotiations proceeding now with the United States looking toward conclusion of the St. Lawrence Seaway and power agreement.

When Mr. Hepburn removed his objection to negotiations last fall there were long discussions between experts of the Dominion and Ontario governments, leading to the resumption a few weeks ago of direct negotiations with the United States.

Students of parliamentary history said provincial legislatures have only censured the Dominion government on a few occasions since Confederation.

A definite check on the records was not possible, but one authority stated he believed a Quebec government condemned the national government of the first Great War on conscription, and back in the 1880's another Quebec administration censured the federal administration because of the execution of Louis Riel, leader of the western rebellion.

REVIVES CLASH

The Ontario Premier's attack on the Prime Minister, which preceded his motion for a resolution censuring the government, revived criticism he directed against Mr. King for two years prior to the outbreak of war.

Soon after Canada entered the conflict Mr. Hepburn came to Ottawa and it was apparent the breach had been closed.

Reports circulated at that time that Mr. Hepburn would probably be asked to join the Dominion cabinet, possibly to head a new department created to facilitate war preparations.

With the new breach coming close on the eve of the parliamentary session, it is expected the Ontario government's criticism of the government will be subject of debate on the floor of the Commons.

ABERHART'S VIEW

CALGARY (CP)—Commenting on the Ontario Legislature's resolution deploring the federal government's war effort, Premier William Aberhart stated here:

"The question of the efficient conduct of the war effort is a matter on which I do not wish to express an opinion at the present time."

"I feel that any failure to look after this great problem would be so inexcusable and criminal that I would need to know all the facts before making such a charge."

"We in Alberta are striving to do all we can to fulfill our part in this matter, knowing that when the time comes we shall be able to give a good account of ourselves."

"I am certainly disturbed to hear of this charge by the Ontario government."

RESOLUTION

Following is the text of the resolution condemning the Canadian government's war effort, passed yesterday afternoon by the Ontario Legislature 44 to 10 after Premier Mitchell Hepburn had threatened to resign if it was not approved:

"That this House has heard with interest the reports made by the Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition (Lieut. Col. George Drew) of the result of their visit to Ottawa to discuss war measures with the national government and this House thereby endorses the statements made by the two members in question and joins with them in regretting that the federal government at Ottawa has made so little effort to prosecute Canada's duty in the war in the vigorous manner the people of Canada desire to see."

Poles Executed Or Made Slaves

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Authoritative Polish quarters here estimate the Nazis have executed a minimum of from 15,000 to 20,000 Poles since they swept across Poland last autumn.

In addition tens of thousands of Poles and Jews have been shut into ghettos, placed in concentration camps or sent to Germany for obligatory labor service, these sources charge.

It is stated the Germans had forbade authorities to post up death notices on city buildings—an old Polish custom—on the ground such action defaced the structures. Polish quarters in Paris are convinced this move was designed to prevent the population from learning how many have died.

Nazi Barbed-Wire Fence On Dutch Border

AMSTERDAM (AP)—A barbed wire fence seven feet high is being erected along the German-Netherlands border by Nazi soldiers.

They said the barrier was designed to stop "undesirables" from crossing the frontier and to prevent smuggling—presumably of money from Germany into Holland.

Customs gates are situated at intervals along the barrier, and legal passage is permitted at these points. As a further means of control, virtually all train traffic between the two countries is being routed through one point—Bentheim, Germany.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1940

So What, Mr. Hepburn?

PREMIER MITCHELL HEPBURN SAID the other day that he had not been able "to provoke the Prime Minister of Canada into an open quarrel," although he had "tried to do so with great dexterity on frequent occasions." With this extraordinary confession before us we are the better able to understand his exasperation as reflected by the resolution which he provoked the Ontario Legislature to approve yesterday afternoon. Its contents follow:

"That this House has heard with interest the reports made by the Prime Minister (Mr. Hepburn) and the Leader of the Opposition (Colonel George Drew) of the result of their visit to Ottawa, to discuss war measures with the national government, and this House thereby endorses the statements made by the two members in question and joins with them in regretting that the federal government at Ottawa has made so little effort to prosecute Canada's duty in the war in the vigorous manner the people of Canada desire to see."

Faced by revolt among his own followers because of the almost-constant attacks in the Legislature on Mr. Mackenzie King and his government at Ottawa, we are told Mr. Hepburn "took the bit in his teeth, presented a hastily-prepared resolution and announced he was staking his political future on it." Defeat, of course, would have produced his resignation; hence, it was adopted, 44 voting for it and 10—nine of his own supporters—registering their disapproval. It should be noted, incidentally, that only 54 members out of a House of 90 were on hand to take part in Mr. Hepburn's latest political exhibition. Every Conservative in attendance, 18 out of the 23 party members, followed the Opposition Leader in his support of the Premier.

Mr. Hepburn has not forgotten—and probably never will forget—two former occasions on which he succeeded in clashing with Mr. Mackenzie King in the open. But the "great dexterity" the Ontario Premier displayed in the power export case more than two years ago showed him to no better advantage than did a similar exhibition of this specific quality when taunted with an axis partnership with Quebec's Maurice Duplessis—recently, of course, removed from office with a display of commendable "dexterity" by the electors of the Ancient Province.

Nobody will seriously suggest that the government of Mr. Mackenzie King has been faultless in its conduct of Canada's war effort to date. The Prime Minister is no superman; he is human, as the rest of us are. Nor would anybody consider Mr. King or Mr. Chamberlain professional war managers; the species does not exist in the British Empire. That their mistakes have been so few is remarkable. What Mr. Hepburn fails to recognize in these times, however, is that the Canadian people are not interested in his personal political feud with the head of the national government. Even his "great dexterity" will not turn their attention from the business in hand. And a man who says, as did Ontario's Premier yesterday, that "if my speech wasn't vitriolic, I meant it to be," is obviously not the type of critic on whose judgment fair-minded Canadian citizens will feel like placing much reliance.

The Economic War

IF GERMANY IS ENTITLED TO THE credit for teaching the Allies how to wage war through trade, it can also be said that the Allies have suddenly become apt pupils, but on lines much more effective than the Reich laid down in the Balkans and in Russia. Great Britain and France are pooling their vast supplies of raw materials, creating huge monopolies which can sell at high prices where there is no competition, and at low prices where they are trying to drive out the trade of their enemies.

Germany, on the other hand, is almost completely blocked in the export as well as the import business on which her whole economic structure depends. In other words, she really began to encircle herself when she initiated a technique which gave her Czechoslovakia and Poland, and has now completed the job by her submarine and mine campaign in international waters. Those Balkan countries with which she is now trading naturally will provide her with the goods she needs only so long as it suits their purpose. The scene may change any day. Incidentally, of course, the Reich will be able to survive economically far longer than may appear possible. But its difficulties will increase with the passage of time.

'But Kind of Cute'

HERE IS A NOTE FOR CANADIAN travel agencies: Mr. H. M. Gousha of Chicago went into a Toronto hotel for breakfast. He put down an American $10 bill in payment, and got $10.20 in Canadian money for change. Said Mr. Gousha: "You may say I think you have a great country here. It's screwy, but kind of cute."

Moral: Not only do American visitors to Canada find no difference in the warmth of welcome they receive in these war days, they also find their money goes a great deal farther than it did before this country joined the Empire's cause. Nor is there any restriction of movement.

Still Playing Politics

AGAIN TAKING ITS CUE FROM THE Montreal Gazette, the morning paper tells us once more that the government "is going about the whole business (of the war) half-heartedly." It complains that while Canada has not yet 100,000 men under arms, Great Britain plans to have 3,500,000 men under arms during the present year; that the Dominion, through its factories, is to provide some 1,200 aircraft, "but only for training purposes, and at present the aircraft industry is comparatively idle, and has been since the war commenced;" and that the government has spent less than $90,000,000 on war orders so far. We do not profess to be able to follow the foregoing type of reasoning.

We have repeatedly said here—several of Mr. Chamberlain's colleagues in the British cabinet, who ought to know, have referred to it in similar terms—that Canada's war effort is going forward satisfactorily on lines best calculated to help to insure that "victory of the Allied cause" about which the morning paper is solicitous, as are all of us. Official British and French spokesmen have indulged in superlatives when discussing the Empire air training plan which is under way in Canada. Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, the last remaining member of Britain's original "air battalion," and who is head of the British Air Mission in Canada, implied in Vancouver yesterday that the beginnings of a scheme of such magnitude necessarily had to be slow, but:

"I will say this, our training here is exactly the same as it is in England, and that is extremely thorough throughout. In the last war—yes, there were times when it was pretty inadequate, but not this time."

The foregoing needs no elaboration. And in view of the fact that Britain and France are counting on the air arm development under the Canadian training scheme to play possibly a deciding part in the eventual Allied victory, in view also of the fact that the various British missions in Canada continue to express their satisfaction with the co-operation they are getting, the small political voice, whether it be that of Mr. Hepburn or that of such stalwart Tory journals as the Montreal Gazette and our morning contemporary, will not seriously disturb the harmony of the greater whole. Not even the Ontario Premier's "great dexterity" can make small politics look like honest criticism.

Stalin Worried?

AT LAST IT HAS BEEN DECIDED THAT Comrade Stalin will not introduce "Blitzkrieg" methods into Finland. And what poppycock, say Soviet propagandists, to assume that the Red army thought for a moment it could squelch the Finns with a lightning stroke! It seems that however badly the Finns may cut up the Soviet army, Stalin's press agents will have the world believe their chief planned it that way. It will not do, of course, to imagine that Soviet Russia has finished with Finland. Stalin can afford to lose a few hundred thousand of his Red soldiers and, presumably, a good deal of his material. But the Georgian dictator must be feeling very uncomfortable these days as he reflects on the poor impression the exploits of his much-vaunted army are leaving on other nations.

During the last war, the name "sauerkraut" was changed in the United States to "liberty cabbage" because the real name was too German. But it still tasted like sauerkraut, and people felt a little silly when they ordered "liberty cabbage."

Canada may have been glutted with wheat during the last couple of years, with prices low, but business is looking up. Wheat exports have jumped from 15,982,526 bushels valued at $9,047,598 in December, 1938, to 34,412,448 bushels, valued at $26,041,163 last month. Export flour sales have nearly trebled, from 365,000 to 902,000 barrels. For the whole of 1939 wheat exports increased to 162,904,586 bushels from 114,178,301 in 1938.

Using 30,000 Planes

From Toronto Star
An examination of the question of what Germany could do with 30,000 warplanes, which she may have shortly, does not cause apprehension. The Allies will not be far behind in numbers, and the quality of their planes, taken together, will be better. In the World War the Allies needed 50,000 planes to maintain an active or first-line strength of 3,000 planes. Losses sometimes reached 100 per cent per month.

In "all-out" air warfare the losses may average 50 per cent monthly. Assuming Germany used 7,000 first-line planes ruthlessly, she would require 3,500 planes monthly for replacements, and possibly many more. Her plane production may now exceed 2,000, but not 3,500. A larger percentage of German planes are bombers than is true of British and French planes. A large proportion of German bombers were built at least two years ago and are unsuitable.

When, if ever, Germany resorts to air frightfulness, she may send out so many planes every hour all through the day and night, say 100 per hour, or 2,400 during 24 hours. British anti-aircraft guns, which should number tens of thousands by now, should be able to make the German bombers fly high. British pursuit planes, the best in the world, should take a heavy toll of the raiders. Unless our data is most misleading, we can face the future campaign in the air with growing confidence.

Loose Bits

TONSorial PHILOSOPHER
In the Barber's Chair

"Ow abart it? 'Aircut, sir?"
"Yes, but not too much off. Looks as though we're in for a cold snap."

"Gettin' thin on top, sir. That's 'ow you feels it a bit chilly, sir. Ever tried a bottle of Dandro? Six bits a bottle with a guarantee. No? Well perhaps you're saving money at that, sir. Say, a little fat guy, bald as one of Gainer's hams, comes in 'ere once a week for a bottle. 'E baths in it, 'e does, s'help me. Faith, sir, that's wot 'e 'as got—or else 'e is working up a case against the Dandro Manufacturing Company for damages on this 'ere guarantee. The roots in 'is 'ead is dead, sir, s'help me. 'E would 'ave to be born again as the Salvation Army people say before 'e could cultivate any fuzz on that barren dome, sir. Remarkable, sir, as 'ow people try to regain the things they 'ave lost, money, youth, beauty and even 'air. Sometimes you can get your money back and sometimes you can't. You may even regain your lost youth an' beauty by face-lifting, exercises and such like, but, dammit, 'air won't grow on a billiard ball, sir. It's against 'uman nature. And 'ow do they lose their 'air, sir? I often asks myself that. Is it a disease of the follicles, old age, worry, early plety or an atrophied condition of the cranium? Now, sir, this 'ere little guy I speak of, see, a regular customer, sir, is a minister . . ."

"Oh, a clerical gentleman?"
"No, this 'ere chap ain't a parson. 'E is a politician. One of them there pork barrel guys you hear about. Comes from Pugh Coupe or some place in the interior, where 'e used to be a doctor . . ."

"A medical man, eh?"
"No, blimy, a 'orse doctor. 'E may be able to cure 'orses, sir, but he don't know nothin' about the care and culture of 'uman 'air, sir. You see, mister, I'm a stoothen of 'uman nature. It's one of them things as comes naturally to members of my profession. So, I sez to myself, gettin' down to fundamentals, sir, the question is, 'Wot caused this 'ere fellow's 'air to give 'im the raspberry, or as they sometimes call it, the Bronx Cheer?' 'Is condition reminded me of the beautiful lines of Robbie Burns, sir,

'Like the snowfall on the river;
A moment white, then gone forever.'
That's 'ow 'is 'air went, sir. Just like that. There's poetry in everything, sir, ain't there, if one only sees the beauty in commonplace things? But, I takes up the problem logically, I does, sir. Facts first, sir, then formulate the premises and from that arrive at a conclusion. That's logic, ain't it, sir? Well, sez I, this 'ere problem must be scientifically considered. You see, sir, a cutaneous appendage—that, sir, is the dude name for 'air—may be lost in a number of ways. Old age fer instance. Well, mister, this 'ere guy was a young fellow so that theory was definitely out.

"Next I creeps up on the subject from another angle, sir. I asks myself whether or not the cause is disease? Why, sir, 'e was as 'ealthy as a ox. One of them there fat, rotund polliwogs with cheeks glowing like a pair of Mackintosh Reds, sir. The bloom and symbol of 'ealth. Then, says I to myself, sir, thinking as 'ow I'd got the solution, it must be a worry. Worry? 'E adn't a darn thing to worry about. The only ones as wot worries is the taxpayers when they sees their 'ard-earned money being burned up in gas and oil and depredation and wot not. Then, sir, I comes down to this, purely scientific like—the absence of physiological stimulation. This was the solution of the riddle, sir, s'help me, it was."

"You get my point, sir? You see, mister, 'is brain was atrophied—no grey matter. Now where there is no activity there ain't no life. 'Air don't grow on nothin', sir. Grass won't sprout where the soil is unfertile. Get that, sir? It's as clear as mud. That's 'ow 'is 'air disappeared. No activity below the surface, sir. That's 'ow this 'ere province is always in a muddle, sir, with debts apling and taxpayers whinin'. 'Ain't that right, sir? A little more off the sideburns, sir? 'Air tonic? No? Well that'll be six bits, sir. Good afternoon."

HOW LONELY OFTEN WALK . . .
How lonely often walk the god-like kin
The thorn-set paths that must be trod for fame,
Where equal peril lies in praise or blame,
And private folly reads like public sin.
Restrained from love and laughter while within
Still surges ardent blood of youth like flame,
When age finds solace it is not the same
Quick rapture that the seekers hoped to win.

Omniscience has a grandeur all its own,
And probing minds and hearts a certain lure;
But neither breeds immunity from pain,
And knowledge reconciles but leaves more lone
Its holders, who accept one law as sure:
Progression comes through loss as well as gain.

War-Office Library

IF CANADIAN military authorities in London, England, decide they'd like to study the manner in which General Wolfe or any other British general of bygone days, for that matter, carried on, all they'll have to do is call on the British War Office Library.

The library contains 150,000 books and it keeps five men busy digging information out of them. The five have to be able to read a score of languages between them and they're extra busy right now but can't be bothered taking on extra help for they figure it would take two years to train a man until he'd be any use to them.

The oldest book on hand is one by Peter Whitehorn, printed in 1573, "For Soldiers in the Battleground and the conduct of Battles." The Canadian navy, if it drops in on London and is interested, can find out there about the Armada attempt to invade Britain and the preparations made to repulse it.

A sum of 12d, it is revealed, "was allocated to soldiers to make them the more willing to make the more haste."

One ship of the British fleet was named the Narque Buggans and another the Dreadnaught.

General Wolfe's hand-written orders, referring to his regiments by the names of their colonels, are there to be seen.

But no military order may be seen until it is at least 50 years old.

Wilfrid Baldry, the librarian, says: "We have to know roughly the contents of every book. As there are just 10,000 books on the last war alone it is not too easy a job."

A DISTINGUISHED CAREER

From Vancouver News-Herald
Jurist, author and patron of the fine arts, Chief Justice Archer Martin of the Appeal Court of British Columbia will retire from the bench of this province full of years and honors and possessing a record that few judges can boast.

Dean of His Majesty's judges in Canada, Chief Justice Martin has occupied a distinguished position on the bench in Canada for 42 years, being made a puisne judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia in 1898. He was the youngest man to be named to any superior court in Canada at any time.

Chief Justice Martin has officiated in many important investigations and commissions. He represented the Minister of Justice on Vancouver Island in 1896. He was concerned with the treaty on the Canadian-Alaskan boundary in 1900. He was appointed judge in admiralty for British Columbia in 1902.

He is the author of much tuncful poetry and literary works of a historical nature, as well as earlier legislation in Ontario.

But while he has occupied his unusually keen mind with cultural pursuits, his devotion to his judicial duties is shown in the fact that he has not missed a necessary day of court in the past 28 years.

British Columbia is proud to have been the scene of such an exceptionally capable, high-minded and devoted judicial career.

There is not one section of the province but will regret his decision to leave the bench he has so usefully adorned.

Chief Justice Archer Martin, still young in mind and keen in interest, has been a judicial landmark in this province and one in which every British Columbian can take pride.

NOT AN ENGLISHMAN

From Prince George Citizen
"I thank God I am not an Englishman," stated the member of the British Columbia Legislature for Comox.

That a man should make such a statement in a speech in the English language in a legislature on the shore of the Pacific in a British country, is an amazing fact. Yet Colin Cameron, a native of Devon, England, made that statement. He made it at the time that the sons of Devon, the descendants of Drake, Howe and Hawkins, were experiencing the most difficult days of the present war in the North Sea in the battle against the tyranny of a foe which has resorted to unrestricted warfare against the democracies.

No matter what a man might think in his heart, any place on the Pacific is a poor place in which to denounce the men of England! Wherever the White Ensign flies is a poor place for such language; wherever liberty is enjoyed is no such place for such a statement.

Such is the iniquity of party strife in politics that men in the heat of partisan discussion sometimes make statements which they later regret. This man from Comox was a politician so tainted with bitterness and hatred toward his neighbors and so ambitious for his party that he is prepared to drag his own people down and to besmirch their great name.

Plastics Fight Wars

Plastic materials are helping to fight wars, present and future. The armed forces of every nation, according to Dr. W. A. Hamor of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, have turned to new and old synthetic resins, chemical-born substances called plastics because while hard when finished they are plastic during manufacture.

Some military applications of plastics: Laminated materials in airplane construction, cast resins in guide lines on airplane carriers, luminescent resins in various military devices, tinted cellulose acetate windows for air-raid protection, gun stocks from cellulose acetate and from fabric-filled phenolic resins, shaped cellulose acetate sheets as a chute for conveying ammunition belts from ammunition boxes to machine guns in airplanes, the molding of mouthpieces and containers for gas masks from phenolic resins, the use of such a plastic as "Koro-seal" in gas masks for protection against mustard gas, the application of cellulose acetate in soldiers' goggles, the use of phenolics in the construction of the noses of anti-aircraft shells, the possible application of nylon as a parachute material.

From Christian Science Monitor
The zigzag plan of conveying ships in wartime recalls the dictionary definition of "zigzag": "One of a series of . . . angles in a course." And the book goes on to describe a "zig" as "one of the angles . . . opposed to zag," while our good friend "zag" is that at an "angle to a zig." All of which recalls the story of the World War soldier who, in crossing "no man's land," was told to take a zigzag course. Later, in "blightly" he explained his condition as due to the fact that he must have zigged when he should have zagged. Which illustrates the importance of being earnest in learning to tell zig from zag.

"FORD V-8 FOR '40 GIVES YOU A GRAND NEW RIDE"

—Says FRANK GILBERT

"I HAVE been selling Ford V-8's for several years, and I would like every one of the hundreds of people I have met during that time to come and take a ride in the 1940 model. The 85-h.p. V-8 motor is the last word in smoothness, but the big thrill is in the luxurious riding quality of this new car. It has longer, softer springs; back and seat cushions are more resilient; it has four double-acting shock absorbers and a new torsion bar ride-stabilizer. Every one of these improvements are for your comfort." Telephone and I will arrange a quarter-hour demonstration . . . why not today?

78 Men Lost With 3 British Subs

BERLIN (AP)—German authorities announced today that four officers and 26 men were rescued by the Germans from the British submarines Starfish and Undine, destroyed in Heligoland Bight January 15.

(The British Admiralty announced yesterday a total of 108 officers and men were missing from three lost submarines, including also the Seahorse. The German announcement indicates the death toll was 17. The Germans have made no mention of the Seahorse.)

DOMINIONS PRAISED BY AMBASSADOR

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Sir Ronald Campbell, British ambassador to France, told the American Club of Paris that the Allies are fighting a war of principle, a war for every man's inalienable right, in Jefferson's words, "to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"This very principle," the ambassador said, "was blatantly challenged in favor of a doctrine, acceptance of which would reverse the whole current of history and would indeed destroy the very basis of international and private life: the doctrine that might is right."

"For our part, what could we do but accept the challenge? And the weapon of force being, very naturally, force, and in this case indiscriminate force, by force we must meet it, fighting as cleanly as we can."

GREAT DATE

Sir Ronald described as one of the most significant dates in the history of the modern world the day on which Canada, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia decided to throw in their lot with Great Britain in the present war.

"Twenty-five years ago," said Sir Ronald, "the Dominions, as they had by then become, lent us their aid with a generosity of spirit and means which no authority could have demanded. Today we are again in danger. Again they rally."

"If in 1914 they were free to stay out of the struggle had they wished they could count themselves even freer today. They were skeptical observers who thought that after the gifts which they made in blood and treasure 20 years ago—and who may not be excused for exclaiming 'seemingly wasted gifts'—they would, if war surged up again, withhold their hands and, however, regretfully, shake their heads."

"It was one of the happiest days in our history—I add, one of the most significant in the history of the modern world—when within a few hours of the event, Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand confounded these skeptics and detractors by throwing in their lot with us unreservedly."

Bacon Packers' Rates Made Public

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Bacon Board, headed by Agriculture Minister J. G. Taggart of Saskatchewan, which will take over actual control of shipments of bacon to Great Britain under the bacon agreement on January 20, has made public the rates of pay to packers for Wiltshire sides, which include both hams and bacon.

The prices average $17.29 per 100 pounds at the seaboard compared with $18.01 paid by the British Ministry of Supply. This margin will leave the board approximately 72 cents per 100 pounds, which will enable the board to accumulate funds from which to advance the prices later on and to pay storage costs on bacon supplies held to augment the short hog runs of midsummer.

A statement issued by the board gave the following prices f.o.b. seaboard:

Light Wiltshire sides, under 55 pounds: Grade A1 $17.50, A2 $17.10, A3 $16.70, B1 $17.10, B2 $16.30, B3 $15.50.

Sizeable Wiltshire sides, 55 to 65 pounds: Grade A1 $17.70, A2 $17.30, A3 $16.90, B1 $17.30, B2 $16.50, B3 $15.70.

Heavy Wiltshires, 65 pounds and up: Grade A1 $17.30, A2 $16.90, A3 $16.50, B1 $16.90, B2 $16.10, B3 $15.30.

Librarian Talks On Early Papers

"A new era in the newspaper business was started in the year 1866. The invention of the telegraph and the use of headlines as we know them was introduced in this year," said Dr. Kaye Lamb, Provincial Librarian, to members of the British Columbia Authors' Association in a lecture on "Early Journals and Journalists in British Columbia" in the Princess Louise room of the Empress Hotel last night.

Dr. Lamb gave a complete outline of the early papers and writers, especially in and around Victoria. He traced the newspapers in Victoria as far back as 1858, when three Californians landed here to establish the Victoria Gazette, the first publication of its kind in Canada, west of Ontario.

The speaker told of the fact that the reason for the establishment of these newspapers was because of the Cariboo gold rush of 1858, which took place at the time when the population of this city increased from a few hundred to several thousand. "In 1858, a famous journalist, Amor de Cosmos, whose real name was William Smith, established the first permanent paper which we still have here, the Daily Colonist. A paper called the Victoria Chronicle, edited by D. W. Higgins, whom many people here knew, was established as opposition to the Colonist."

Dr. La: b told of the editorial feuds carried on between the editors of the two papers. Political matters were discussed in the columns and public opinion was often influenced by the writings of the editors.

The speaker also gave an outline of other publications in the western part of the continent.

Mrs. F. G. Berton, president, was in the chair and thanked the speaker on behalf of the audience. Maureen E. Evans of Colquitz was announced as the winner of a short story competition held by the association. Enid F. Sisson of Sidney was awarded second prize, and Joan Austin Leigh received honorable mention. The judges were Mrs. Robin Breach, Mrs. F. G. Berton and Miss M. Eugene Perry.

A short address on markets now available for writers who wish to get their material published was given by Miss Eugenie Perry.

Audrey St. Denis Wood played three of Chopin's solos for the piano, a prelude, a nocturne and a waltz. Miss Wood's solos were well received by the gathering.

SURGEONS TO MEET

Members of the medical profession and hospital executives from western states, British Columbia, and, by invitation, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands, will participate in a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons to be held in Los Angeles January 29, 30 and 31. Headquarters will be at the Biltmore Hotel, and surgical clinics and demonstrations of hospital procedures will be held at the medical schools and hospitals.

Among distinguished surgeons to address the sessions will be Dr. George P. Muller of Philadelphia, president of the American College of Surgeons and professor of surgery at Jefferson Medical College.

The American College of Surgeons was founded in 1913 by surgeons of the United States and Canada with the object of elevating the standards of surgery. It now has more than 12,500 Fellows. One of its best known activities has been hospital standardization, a work which is carried forward by means of constant research and surveys in an effort to improve hospitals. Los Angeles has 14 hospitals approved by the College, one of which is also approved for graduate training in surgery. Six hospitals in the city operate cancer clinics approved by the College. There are 307 approved cancer clinics in the United States and Canada, and 2,720 approved hospitals.

president of the Canadian Construction Association as the 22nd annual three-day meeting concluded here. He succeeds C. D. Harrington of Montreal. Col. J. F. Keene of Vancouver was named western vice-president.

LONDON—Though both the British and French press continue to discuss the probability of a fresh German attempt to break through the French lines barring the way to Paris, the Germans so far have failed to advance further in the region of Soissons.

PARIS—Snow fell yesterday in Belgium, in northern France and the Vosges, but nevertheless there was artillery fighting in these sections, according to the official communication of the French war office, given out today.

In the death of Hon. Abraham E. Smith, United States Consul in Victoria, who passed away at 12.20 a.m. today after a brief illness, the city lost one of her most highly-esteemed citizens.

The recount for the school trustee election in Sanich made yesterday by Returning Officer Sewell, gives the total for J. T. Brooks and James Owen at 517 each, instead of 520 and 519 respectively, thus tying them for first place.

WAR COMFORTS

Mrs. J. L. Gates, reporting for the emergency services committee, told of large quantities of socks, gloves, sweaters, mitts, helmets, magazines, cigarettes, cards and calendars distributed locally among soldiers and sailors. The home-nursing classes will begin shortly. An appeal was made to the order for chairs, curtains and pictures for the soldiers' quarters at Macaulay Point.

The chapter is affiliating and will work with the Auxiliary Service Committee of the Co-ordination Council for War Work and Civilian Services. The chapter will undertake to supply arm bands for wardens in the Civilian Protection Committee organization.

All committees are busily working, it was shown in the reports which included that of the organizing secretary, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, who asked for lists of members who have joined since last February; Mrs. F. F. Beck, executive secretary, said that copies of "Unity Within the Empire" will be placed in public schools; Mrs. J. T. Jones, Echoes secretary, said that subscription forms were available; Mrs. G. G. Plans were made for the annual meeting of Municipal Chapter on March 28, Gonzales Chapter as tea convenors. Mrs. Ellis was appointed convenor of the nominating committee, which includes Miss Jessie Knight, Miss Herd, Mrs. Cashmore and Mrs. Standwick.

The chapters were asked to send provincial councillor nomination forms to the secretary and also the names of those who have passed away during the year.

Margaret Jenkins P.T.A. Plan Valentine Dance

The Margaret Jenkins P.T.A. met in the auditorium of the school on Tuesday evening with a good attendance of parents and teachers, and Mrs. Pottinger, the president, in the chair.

The secretary, Mrs. Barnes, gave a report of the district council meeting held recently. Members were asked to send any suitable magazines to the schools which would in turn be forwarded to an outlying school on the west coast. Sir James Douglas and Margaret Jenkins schools are co-operating in this enterprise.

A Valentine dance will be held towards the middle of next month and a committee, composed of Mrs. Unwin, Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Baylis, were appointed to make arrangements for it. Mrs. T. W. Gray announced that the study group meets every Wednesday afternoon in the school from 2.30 to 4. All those in the district who are interested are invited to attend. W. A. Baylis, recently elected as a member of the school board, spoke briefly.

It was decided to aid in the purchase of milk for children of the school who require it. Dr. Olga Jardine will be the speaker at the February meeting, and the school choir will render musical numbers.

W. C. Mearns of the B.C. Electric, showed an increasing film synchronized with sound dealing with lighting conditions in the home and public buildings, and the effect on the individual, and Miss Parsons, also of the B.C. home lighting department, spoke briefly.

Miss Nancy Anthony sang two delightful solos, following which refreshments were served by Mrs. Unwin and her committee.

Weddings

ROCHFORD—GAGNON

At the Anglican Church in Vancouver on Tuesday afternoon at 5.30, Rev. F. Dibble united in marriage Christine Miller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gagnon, Fraser Street, Esquimalt, and Bombardier Cyril N. (Hank) Rochford, R.C.A., Vancouver.

The bride wore an afternoon frock of teal blue made with bustle effect, wine accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark of Vancouver attended the young couple, who will make their home at 1754 Pendrell Street, Vancouver.

MARCHANT—BAKER

Two well-known young people were united in marriage at St. John's Church last evening at 9, when Helen Minnie (Mynne), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Baker, 2024 Stanley Avenue, became the bride of Mr. Bertram Charles Marchant, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Marchant, 1417 Pembroke Street.

Rev. Canon F. A. F. Chadwick conducted the ceremony, during which the bride and groom stood before baskets of white chrysanthemums at each side of the chancel steps. Mr. C. Jennings Burnett played the wedding music and the full choir was present. As the register was being signed Mrs. Bernard C. Gillie sang the solo, "All Joy Be Thine."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowning in a princess frock of white satin, the full gored skirt extending into a long train. With it she wore a fitted jacket, with long sleeves pointed over the hands, the front and neckline outlined with narrow pleating. Her filmy veil of illusion net fell from a cluster of orange blossoms, which had been worn by her mother at her wedding, and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, white carnations and freesias.

Mrs. A. J. Baker Jr. was her sister-in-law's matron of honor in an attractive frock of periwinkle blue tulle with a long full skirt. The tight-fitted bodice had long pointed sleeves. On her head she wore a cluster of pink carnations and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and anemones. Mr. John Gray was best man, and Mr. Jeffrey Baker, brother of the bride, and Mr. Bernard Gillie were ushers. Posies of white chrysanthemums and tulle marked the guest pews.

A reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, the bridal party standing before a fireplace banked with pink and white chrysanthemums between baskets of the same blooms. Lighted pink tapers in crystal holders and vases of pink roses at each corner adorned the supper table, which was centred with a three-tier cake surmounted by a vase of roses. Mr. A. J. Patton proposed the toast.

Mrs. Baker received in a frock of woodland violet crepe, with a corsage bouquet of pink roses and violets, and a black straw hat with a pendant veil at the back, and trimmed with a band of pink, purple and black ribbon, and was assisted by Mrs. Marchant Sr., wearing a frock of orchid triple sheer, with a bolero, and a violet felt hat trimmed with ostrich tips, her corsage bouquet being of gardenias and violets.

The young couple left for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride travelling in a moss-green dress, with a black wool coat with pink collar and black accessories. They will make their home at 1631 Begbie Street on their return.

Three new members were welcomed. The pastor, Rev. N. J. Crees, installed the officers for 1940. Mrs. G. G. Children Have Keener Taste

Because children have a keener sense of taste they often refuse ill-tasting medicines. This difficulty may be avoided by giving VINO-COD-OL, a palatable extract of Cod Livers, rich in Vitamin "D" and phosphorus. GROCERY PRICES DUE FOR RISE

TORONTO — Retailing and wholesaling in groceries have turned quieter since beginning of the year, with some exceptions, but both are expected to pick up in the near future and certainly before the Budget comes down, which will likely be in March, states Canadian Grocer in its current issue. Grocers are in the midst of stocktaking to determine progress of business in 1939 and this will no doubt show that, on the whole, the year was nicely ahead of 1938, and especially the latter part of it following out-break of war.

The 1940 budget is in the formative stage. When it will be brought forth and what it will contain is a secret which Finance Minister Ralston only knows, or will know before it is presented. But, the mere talk of higher taxes or duties against grocery products such as sugar, tea, coffee, is bound to stimulate sales in the meantime. This is evident already in the brisk business that has been going on in sugar, and quantity of tea and coffee taken out of bond this month and next will likely be shown to be fairly heavy.

Some weeks ago, Canadian Grocer forecast there would likely be some gradual advances in more food products with the new year. This prediction is now being borne out. For instance, corn syrup and corn starch recently showed advances due to not only the higher corn market but to the advances in cartons, shipping containers, tins and labor. Flour and some cereal products, as well as bread, have also been advancing, and salmon is higher to the retail trade; so is canned shrimp.

NO MORE ON TEA AND COFFEE

Many consider it doubtful that the government will add further taxes to tea and coffee in view of the fact that these products today, in some cases, are, or will be, close to 20 cents per lb. higher to the consumer than before the September Wartime Budget. Rumors, however, continue to come out of Ottawa that there might be an increase in the sales tax up to 10 per cent, which would add to laid-down cost of not only these but practically all food items, in view of the fact that this tax is paid on duty-paid values.

White beans continue to advance, due to the heavy export demand from the United Kingdom; this is firming prices on pork and beans. Canned vegetables continue quite firm—tomatoes because of the export trade, peas on account of the short pack last year, and corn because of heavy consumption and shortage in peas.

The Lenten season opens much earlier this year — Wednesday, February 7. This is already helping business in canned fish, as well as fresh and smoked fish, canned vegetables, canned soups and a wide variety of other foods, such as macaroni and spaghetti, that are served to a bigger extent during this fasting season. Early Lent means an early Easter, which, many believe, stimulates spring business.

V.A.D. to Be Formed For Emergencies

Ottawa Committee Formulates Plans For Voluntary Aid

OTTAWA (CP)—A committee, composed of representatives of the nursing profession, the St. John Ambulance Association, the Red Cross and the Department of National Defence has been established in connection with work leading to formation of Voluntary Aid Detachments for war emergencies at home and abroad, it was announced last night.

The committee, announced following a meeting of the St. John Ambulance Association here, will be composed of Miss Elizabeth Smellie, Ottawa, representing the Registered Nurses' Association; Miss Hazel Todd, Ottawa, district superintendent of the St. John Association; Miss Jean Gunn of Toronto, the Canadian Red Cross Society, and Matron Emma Pense of the National Defence Department. The association said that while there has been no call for voluntary aid detachments either by the joint council in England or national defence headquarters in Canada, "nevertheless conditions prevailing in England may change so that voluntary help from this side may be not only desirable but necessary."

HOME NURSING POPULAR

The committee will go into the question of advanced training, such as hospital duties, and draw up a syllabus that will be uniform for the whole of Canada and will be available immediately when such training is taken in hand.

Reports to the association showed a large increase in home nursing training owing to the desire of women and girls throughout Canada to fit themselves to be of service in any emergency at home and also to have the fundamental training leading up to special work required in voluntary aid detachments.

Good progress was reported in air raid precautions training in the seaboard cities where local air raid precautions committees now are functioning under provincial authorities.

The director of ambulance reported a large increase in the association's various work for 1939, with a total of 47,327 certificates and awards issued, an increase of 9,519 over 1938.

Hats to Bloom In The Spring Tra-la!

Flower-covered Hats And Slacks for Dinner Wear Latest

CHICAGO (AP) — Feminine spring hats will be walking gardens of flowers — pill boxes covered with violets, tricornes of field flowers, heart shaped bonnets of lily of the valley.

This was noted today at a preview of fashions to be shown by the Style Exhibitors Inc. at the semiannual two weeks' wholesale market, January 29-February 6.

"Suits—and more suits" is the spring fashion keynote. The suits are softly tailored or very dressy. Pockets are either very small or very big. Jackets are all lengths. Skirts are still short and full.

Many of the new spring print dresses have a solid color woolen top coat lined with the print. The designs in the print are just about anything desired—big or small, floral or geometrical.

Slacks are important. A new version is the slack dinner suit. An example of this was modelled in white silk jersey. The trousers were full and gathered at the waist. The tailored blouse was worn tucked inside the trousers, and a blue and red-wide sash added color.

T.V.A. Auxiliary Re-elects Officers

Mrs. D. W. Burnett was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculous Veterans' Association at the annual meeting held in the clubrooms on Tuesday. Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Mrs. Duncan; second vice-president, Mrs. Fulthorpe; secretary, Mrs. Kitchen; treasurer, Mrs. R. Standewick, returned to office.

The committee conveners were appointed as follows: House committee, Mrs. Huellin; ways and means, Mrs. Brien; sick, Willows District, Mrs. Kitchen, Esquimalt, Mrs. Kelly, Fairfield, Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Winter.

The officers presented encouraging reports, showing much had been accomplished during the past year. The president in her report thanked the secretary and treasurer for the support and co-operation she had received, also the press for the generous publication given during the year. The new year begins with all bills paid and a good bank balance.

The first social function will be a Valentine tea, which will be held in the clubrooms on Thursday, February 15, followed by cards in the evening. The annual T.V.S. ball will be held at the Empress Hotel on February 23, when the women's auxiliary will again convene as they have done in past years.

Law May Part Her From Her Family

SEATTLE (AP) — Because she said at a naturalization hearing that she didn't think she could actually carry a gun in case of war, Mrs. Alice Signe Aune, formerly of Manitoba, said yesterday she must be separated from her family and return to Canada to seek readmission to the United States as an immigrant.

Mrs. Aune was one of two women whose naturalization petitions were dismissed for the same reason recently. The other was Mrs. Kathryn Erickson of Enumclaw.

Mrs. Aune vowed she would serve as a nurse or in any other wartime capacity which the government might ask, but she didn't think she could bear arms. Her tragic story is one of crossing and recrossing the border. She was born at Duluth, Minn., but lost her citizenship by marrying O. P. Aune, a Norwegian. They went to Canada to settle on a homestead near Winnipeg. They resided there 25 years. Three of their four children were born there.

Last summer the family moved to Seattle to join her mother and a brother, a disabled American war veteran. Aune and the children entered as immigrants, but Mrs. Aune was advised repatriation was different. She entered on a parole requiring an application for citizenship within three months.

She did so. But her naturalization hopes shattered, she now is preparing to return to Canada so she can re-enter the United States as an immigrant.

"What if they won't let me in now?" she asked. "That would be terrible, to be separated from my family."

LONDON—War's effect on fabrics and fashions will tend to increase individuality, a fashion expert here believes. By spring women's clothes will be more feminine and it will be "unfashionable to be fashionable," he thinks.

Models Object to Debs' Competition

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's models, tired of the "unfair competition" of the debutante, last night took the first step in a campaign to obtain legislation classifying them as a professional group.

Led by attractive Ruth Allen, the models drew up a petition to Governor Saltonstall and the Legislature to grant them the same type of organization that is now afforded nurses, hairdressers and similar professional workers.

"Debutantes are doing our work for fun and amusement," declared Miss Allen. "All we want is our chance to earn our living, without this unfair amateur competition."

Bill Levia moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker on behalf of the members. Next week's meeting is in charge of Marjorie Griffiths' group.

H.B.C. Employees Company's Guests

Victoria employees of the Hudson's Bay Company, to the number of 300, sat down to the annual dinner of the Beaver Club last night, guests of the company at the local store.

A. J. Watson, local manager, presided over the happy gathering, which heard the club's annual reports, listened to brief speeches, said farewell to a popular departing executive and welcomed a new one, indulged in community singing, applauded an entertaining program and saw a series of colored motion pictures.

Mr. Watson, who was given an ovation when he rose to speak, thanked the employees for their faithful service during the year. The company gave the dinner, he said, to show its appreciation of such service. He spoke of the necessity of fellowship and friendship in the store.

OLD-TIME EMPLOYEES

At the banquet, he said, were 76 employees who had been with the firm 10 years, and of them 33 had served between 15 and 30 years.

"We could never have worked together so smoothly all those years without friendship and fellowship," Mr. Watson said.

R. J. Gourlay of Winnipeg, senior member of the Canadian committee of the company, was a guest with Mrs. Gourlay. He spoke briefly and said how delighted he was to see such a happy gathering.

Mr. Watson, on behalf of the employees, bade farewell and offered good wishes to A. E. S. Warrington, assistant merchandise manager, who has been promoted to the Calgary store. Mr. Warrington was loudly applauded and responded with a few words, saying how much he had enjoyed Victoria. H. E. MacKenzie, who has come from the company's Saskatoon store to take Mr. Warrington's place, was welcomed by Mr. Watson.

F. V. Sellers, president of the Beaver Club, traced the year's activities and thanked all members for their support, which, he said, had enabled the club to carry on so successfully. He thanked the company for its donations to the welfare fund, which had looked after employees who had been sick during the year.

The secretary's report was read by John Walton, who showed that sick claims to the amount of $1,236 were paid out during the year. These represented 142 claims, an increase of 51 over the previous year.

SHAWANIGAN PICNIC
John Chambers presented the social report and told of the success of the annual picnic to Shawanigan Lake, the dances and the fivepin bowling.

Sports activities of "The Bay" were covered by Thomas O'Connell, chairman of the sports committee. The "Bay Footballers" won the James Adam Cup, the Rennie & Taylor Cup and the McKay Shield in the Wednesday League knockout competition, his report showed, and other employees had been active in table tennis, Albert Renfrew of the store staff being the champion of Victoria; golf, lawn bowling, fivepins and carpet bowling.

The treasurer's report, showing a healthy condition of finances, was presented by Miss V. L. Ovenden.

The Beaver Club executive for the coming year was announced as follows: Misses Lucy Robinson and Irene Williams; John Chambers, John Walton, Thomas O'Connell, Harry Ward, Harry Madden, L. J. D. Smith and Richard Eaton. Officers will be chosen at the executive's next meeting.

OLD-TIMERS, SOLDIERS

Special guests at the dinner were old-time employees of the company, Chris Harding, H. M. Cotter, F. A. Jenner, E. J. Riley and R. Aldous. C. H. French sent his regrets, because of a Rotary Club dinner. In addition to these, several employees who have joined the army attended in uniform and were roundly cheered when introduced.

Godfrey Hurst, staff cameraman, showed a movie reel of the company's annual picnic last summer, and pictures taken in South Africa last year by Mr. and Mrs. Watson were much enjoyed. Mr. Watson giving a brief travogue with them.

Solos were sung by Pierre Timp and Miss Elsie Beals. Russ Stark presented saxophone and clarinet solos and the Beaver Club quartette, composed of Edward Boulden, Ken Cave, Harry Morrison and Reg Lane, gave several numbers. Accompanists were Mrs. Pierre Timp and Miss May King. Wm. Harkness, magician, performed amazing feats of magic which were much enjoyed.

Arsenal in Tough Match

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA SPORT will lose one of its most popular figures with the departure this week-end for Vancouver of J. A. (Barney) Barnwell. The former manager of the championship Blue Ribbons basketball club has been given a prominent position by his firm, but the unfortunate part is that it calls for his taking up residence in the mainland city. So Sunday the big fellow will move bag and baggage across the water.

Barney will always be remembered as the fellow who played a leading role in bringing this city's first Canadian senior men's basketball championship. It was not until he interested his company in sponsoring the Blue Ribbons that this city sprung into the limelight in the national cage world. Barnwell realized the championship possibilities of the ball club and, in addition to gaining the local boys much-needed financial backing, threw the full force of his own dynamic personality and managing ability into the ring.

Results of Barney's efforts are history now. He captured a Canadian championship and was indirectly responsible for this city taking its second Dominion crown, although no longer associated with basketball. The present Dominos are an outgrowth of the Blue Ribbons. The champions were developed from the squad which Barnwell helped to build. Of the Blue Ribbons, only two players remain, Art and Chuck Chapman. Remaining members are engaged in diversified lines of activity. Lynn and Muzz Patrick are famous professional hockey stars with the New York Rangers, while Tommy Little, Joe Ross and Johnny Craig have retired from the athletic front to busy themselves in the business world.

Yesterday Barnwell returned from a hurried business trip to eastern Canada. While in Toronto he saw a N.H.L. match between the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs, but suffered a big disappointment when last Saturday's record-breaking engagement between the New York Rangers and Leafs. Barney had counted on saying hello to Lynn and Muzz and seeing them in action for the first time. "I saw them when they were at the peak on the basketball court and it would have warmed my heart to have had the opportunity to watch them in their stuff in hockey togs," Barney said.

Tonight Barney will see what will likely be his last basketball game in Victoria when he is the guest of the Dominos for their engagement with the Harlem Globe Trotters. We hate to see you go, Barney, but must extend congratulations to you on your promotion. Victoria's loss is Vancouver's gain.

The other night at the Willows Sports Centre during the playing of one of the games between the touring Chinese team and the Dominos, a young, well-built Chinese walked up to the press bench and asked: "Do you remember me?" After looking at him for a few seconds our memory went back to around 1920, when Ed. Lore was one of the finest three-quarters in High School rugby. Fast and elusive, he showed promise of a brilliant career, only to give up the sport after leaving Victoria High. Lore flashed across the rugby screen at the same time that Homer Caviness, Barney Hunter et al were establishing themselves as outstanding players. Lore had quite a chat with us, being interested in how his former teammates were making out.

LONDON (CP)—Arsenal visits West Ham United in the feature match on the United Kingdom's week-end soccer card. The unbeaten Gunners need only a point to clinch the championship of the south A group of London and district clubs.

Indications point to a real battle with both teams at the top of their form. The United has bagged most of the points played for since Christmas and in mid-week defeated Crystal Palace 3 to 0. Arsenal is going all out to maintain a great record. Of 14 matches played since competition started October 21, 11 have been won and the remainder drawn.

South A and south B schedules will be completed February 3, but in all other sections, competition continues until spring. All divisions will be in action tomorrow with not a little interest in the races for Scottish titles.

RANGERS PLAY MOTHERWELL
Following their triumph a week ago over the rival Queen of the South, Glasgow Rangers will have a two-point advantage at the top of the western group, are strong favorites for the championship. Tomorrow the Light Blues entertain Motherwell at Ibrox Park.

Falkirk and Hearts, contenders for leadership in the east, meet on the former's ground. Both have powerful forwards and Falkirk lead with 25 points, one more than the Edinburgh team.

Bournemouth have a good opportunity to get on level terms with Queen's Park Rangers on south B. While the Rangers oppose Chelsea in a hard battle at Stamford Bridge, the seashore side are at home to Aldershot, and should have no difficulty in capturing maximum points.

Tied with 14 points each in the western section of English clubs, Liverpool and Everton are likely to go further ahead at the expense of Chester and Wrexham. Bury and Preston North End are docked in the northwest with 15 points each. Both have home games tomorrow. Bury, tackling the strong Bolton Wanderers and Preston, meeting Accrington Stanley.

In the northeast, Newcastle United is due at Bradford City. The United, with 14 points, is two ahead of Bradford and Leeds United, joint holders of the runner-up position.

While the Intercity games this season have held the soccer spotlight here, tomorrow's big scrap between Victoria City and Victoria West elevens has stirred up lots of interest. They collide at Athletic Park at 2.15 in the final of the Freddy Price Cup, put up for competition to commemorate one of the city's best-known players.

These two teams have held positions in the top brackets in Garrison Cup play all season, and of late there has been boasting among supporters of both sides as to the superior strength of their favorites. Tomorrow's meeting should decide which is the better of the two clubs.

In Garrison Cup play thus far this season Victoria West, bossed by goalie Tommy Restell, has suffered but a single setback. The green-shirts are present sole leaders. Victoria City, tied for second place with Esquimalt, has suffered only two defeats.

Teams follow:
Victoria West—T. Restell, J. O'Neil, Murray, Cooper, C. Restell, Smith, Kennedy, R. O'Neil, Travis, Munroe, Kitching, Brown, Duncan, Patterson and Tonkin.

Victoria City—Stewardson, Eastwood, Mills, Lorandini, Fieldhouse, Billis, Holness, Barnes, Robinson, Condon, Barber, Leggett, Laird, Boothie, Lorandini, Youson and Robbins.

Cambridge Oarsmen Accept Challenge

LONDON (CP-Cable)—The Cambridge Rowing Club today accepted Oxford's challenge for an unofficial interspersed boat race to be held March 2 instead of the usual annual event rowed between Mortlake and Putney on the Thames.

No venue for the substitute event was fixed. Previous reports have mentioned Henley, some 40 miles up the Thames from the regular course. The government has opposed the gathering of large crowds in the London area during the war.

Intercity Rugby Here Tomorrow

An attractive twin-bill rugby program, with an intercity flavor, will be presented followers of the pigskin game tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park.

Spotlighting the show will be the meeting between Meralomas of Vancouver and Coach George Deacon's Oak Bay Wanderers, J.B.A.A. and Army senior oval ball warriors will lock horns in a Barnard Cup engagement in the other portion of the double-bill.

Both games start at 2.30. Meralomas have an impressive record for current season's play, being unbeaten in 10 straight games. They are ruling the roost in Miller Cup competition. The mainline club's line-up includes a half dozen of Vancouver Rep players, including George Biddle, flyhalf, and Ken Banks, halfback, who were outstanding in the Vancouver vs. Victoria McKennie Cup game here on Boxing Day. Tiger Rofe, wing three-quarter, and Les Pope, Buzz Moore and Bob McQuizzan, forwards, are Rep products on the team. Other members of the Meralomas team are: Frank Williams, fullback; Tom Williams and Harry Ivatt, inside three-quarters; Jack Wight, Bill Ridley, Len Rowley, Ben Bowman and Jack Bain, forwards.

WANDERERS IN GOOD FORM

Oak Bay Wanderers have finally hit their stride, their 28 to 4 defeat to the Army in their last start being a good indication of their present form.

Local line-ups follow:
Wanderers—Grogan, G. Murdoch, B. Murdoch, Barber, McLean, Smith (Navy), Anderson, Ley, Acland, Turner, J. Smith, S. McCaig, Gornall, Williams and Forbes.

J.B.A.A.—Fullback, Ferguson; three-quarters, C. Doheny, Thompson, Cullin, Brodigan; five-eighths, Halkett; halfback, Langdon; forwards, Anderson, Andrews, Mair, F. Doheny, DeMacedo, Simpson, Leighton and Berry.

Ruth Gives Up Hope of Ever Returning to Game

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest figure of baseball's modern age, Babe Ruth, has given up hope of ever returning to the game he glorified for two decades.

A mellow, bulging fellow, living decorously on the annuities he had the good sense to lay away with part of the $1,000,000 he earned in baseball, the Babe doesn't seem sorry.

"Yes, I guess I'm out of it," Ruth said today. "I've got a comfortable home here and no worries. I get a few odd jobs to do, but mostly I keep busy trying to hold down my weight. I play a lot of table tennis and golf, go hunting, and I've got one of those electric horses, too."

He's a different bambino now from the rollicking, carefree character who caused the record books to be rewritten, received up to $80,000 a year from New York Yankees, squandered—possibly $250,000 in luxurious living and paid $20,000 in baseball fines.

Trotters Play Tonight

In the wee small hours of the morning, Abe Saperstein and his band of Harlem Globe Trotters, outstanding Negro basketball team, arrived in town from Port Alberni, where last night they marked up another victory, 39 to 21.

The Trotters, long favorites with Victoria fans, will dish out another treat of the cage sport tonight and tomorrow evening at the Willows Sports Centre when they meet the Dominos, starting at 9 each night.

Owner-coach Saperstein reports his Harlem huskies, who began their tour last November, are now at the top of their form and ready to turn loose a spectacular show, unequalled by any team in the game.

Winning is just incidental in the routine of the Trotters. These Negro cagers primarily are entertainers, a basketball vaudeville troupe. From the veteran Inman Jackson and captain Ted Strong on down to the rookies, they have no peers as basketball comedians. However, since their tour opened the Trotters have lost only one engagement. That record speaks for itself.

Bucky Walters to Receive Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Bucky Walters, Cincinnati's ace hurler, who won 27 and lost 11 last year, will be awarded the player of the year trophy at the annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America, February 4.

Walters was second only to his teammate, Paul Derringer, in games won and lost and topped the National League hurlers in earned runs with 2.29 per game. Jimmy Foxx of the Boston Red Sox won the trophy last year.

California Golf

Little Is Medalist

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Man to man battles succeeded player vs. par tests today as 32 qualifiers of the $5,000 San Francisco match play open golf tournament paired off in first round struggles over the Lake Merced course.

Lawson Little, one time British and U.S. amateur champion, led survivors of the 36-hole trials into the match play competition. Medalist and already winner of $325, as the result of topping the field with a 76-69-139, Little drew Willie Goggin, husky San Franciscan, as his first opponent.

Five former winners in the 10-year history of the San Francisco open clubbed qualifying positions out of the par 72 course. They were Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill., 1939 winner; Harold McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.; Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas, who won the Oakland open last week; Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N.Y., and Little.

STARS ARE OUT

Among the top flight pro members of the fairway brigade who failed to qualify was the former two-time United States open champion Ralph Guldahl.

Bady off form since the winter tournament swing reached California, Guldahl had a 78 and total of 154 yesterday. He was joined on the sidelines by such notables as E. J. Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., at 150; Paul Runyan, White Plains, N.Y., 155; Denny Shute, Huntington, W.Va., former P.G.A. champion, 152; Ky Laffoon, Chicago, who failed to turn in his second-round card; Olin Dutra, Los Angeles, 151.

Not an amateur landed among the qualifiers. Squeezed out was U.S. champion Marvin "Bud" Ward of Spokane, at 152.

Other scores included Stanley Horne, Montreal, 74-78-152.

NO MORE BLOATING AFTER MEALS—VICTORIA CITIZEN IS PRAISING MOSBY'S TONIC

Had Indigestion, Gas and Sour Stomach — Suffered Frequently for Years — Couldn't Sleep Properly at Nights Due to Suffering — Now He Tells How Mosby's Tonic Brought Real Relief

Day after day, crowds continue to flock to the Cunningham Drug Store (formerly Vancouver Drug Co.), Fort and Douglas Sts., Victoria, where this New, Scientific Formula, known as MOSBY'S TONIC, is being sold in large quantities. This Splendid Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Proven Medicinal Agents has already helped THOUSANDS (this is literally true) in this city, although it has been known here only a short time. And some of the best-known residents of Victoria are coming forward daily with Sincere Statements describing what Mosby's Tonic did for them and urging others who suffer in the same way to get this New Compound and take it. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. E. Williams of 1447 Monterey Ave., Victoria, made the following statement. Mr. Williams has lived here in Victoria 33 YEARS and is a widely-known citizen. We are PROUD to publish his statement below:

Stabbing Pains After Meals Due to Gas

"I have certainly suffered," reads Mr. Williams' statement, "but finally I found Mosby's Tonic and got such splendid relief that I feel it is my duty to tell others about such a medicine. My stomach was so badly disordered that during the past several years I have had one occurrence after another of attacks of indigestion, gas, bloating and all the distress that goes with an upset stomach. The pains from gas bloating were sometimes so bad that I felt like something was stabbing me. These pains would come in my back and in my sides and even extend up into my chest. At nights I couldn't get my proper sleep and the next morning I would feel all tagged out and hated to face the day. Besides my disordered stomach, I had bowel constipation and was always taking laxatives. So you see I had my share of distress and suffering."

Got Splendid Relief! Thanks Mosby's Tonic

"Yes, I was a real suffering person if there ever was one, and I tried various medicines and did everything I knew to do, but never got any real relief. I had been hearing a lot about Mosby's Tonic and so many people were praising it that I decided to give it a trial. Now I want to tell you that it has been the first thing to really help me. It has given me such full relief that I hardly realize I ever had stomach distress. Now I can eat my meals without that distressful gas bloating, and no more pains from gas. I can go to bed at night and get my proper rest and when I get up in the mornings I have plenty of energy to face my day's work. This medicine also cleansed and regulated my bowels, and helped me in so many ways that it is hard to explain how much better I feel. It is certainly a fine medicine, just as everybody says, and I am glad to endorse it to others who suffer as I did."

It Helps to Clear Away the Poisonous Wastes

MOSBY'S TONIC helps to clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once—that is, it acts as a cathartic, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic all at the same time and helps cleanse bowels, assists to flush impurities from kidneys, brings forth gas and bloating from stomach and stimulates the flow of liver bile. Many people write us they soon feel like different men and women as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Mosby's Tonic. Another thing due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

Armstrong Has Retiring Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the innumerable "touches" and "bites" put on Henry Armstrong's bankroll by the less fortunate members of the fistie fraternity, the steaks and French fries are "insured" for the belting buzz-saw and his family as long as he lives. So, his financial house in order, Henry is looking ahead to joust three more fights before he turns for keeps from the gentle art of scrambling ears to writing poetry.

His campaign is (1) to whip Pedro Montanez in defence of his welterweight championship in Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night; (2) follow that up with another successful defence of the 147-pound laurels against Al Davis in an outdoor show; and (3) then abdicate his throne to try for a crack at the half of the middleweight title owned by Cefarino Garcia.

WRITES BIOGRAPHY

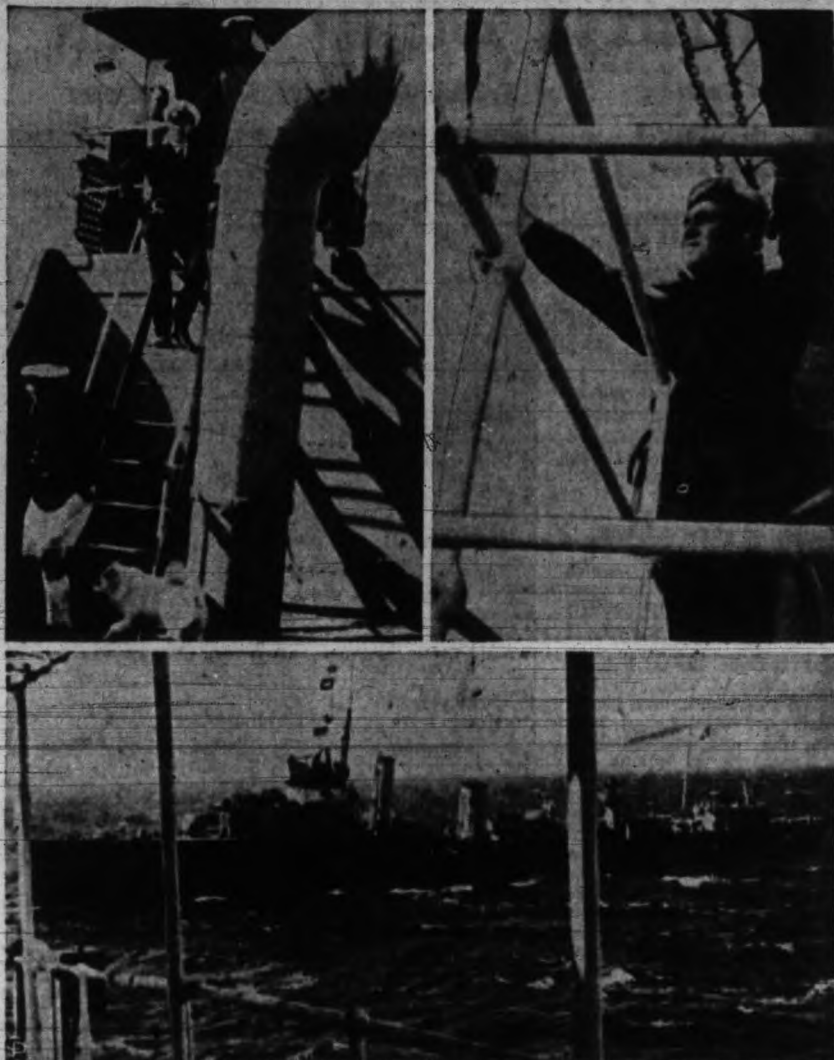

Now that he has the "coconuts" in annuities and some paying property in Los Angeles, "Henry the Hammer" figures he can do the things he wants. He has spent his spare time in the last two and a half years writing his biography, "The Glory Road," but he's going to hold up its publication until he has hung up the gloves.

His annuities will return him about $100 a week, even if not another nickel is paid toward them. As usual, Armstrong is making no predictions as to just what will happen to Montanez next Wednesday. Nevertheless, he shows, in his boxing work, determination to go on undefeated in defence of the last of the three titles he once held simultaneously.

DRAMA ON THE HIGH SEAS AS FREIGHTER SEARCHED—Quick and efficient was the work of the search party from a British destroyer which stopped and boarded the U.S. freighter West Cusseta to make certain that she was really an American vessel. The entire procedure took only 19 minutes from the time the West Cusseta was ordered to "Heave To!" A British naval officer, in shorts, is shown, upper left, descending from the bridge of the West Cusseta, the last of the boarding party to leave the ship, while an English tar is shown, upper right, signalling the destroyer that "All's O.K." The destroyer is shown, bottom, as seen from the deck of the West Cusseta.

Bonura Declines Appeal of Landis

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Zeke Bonura, equally at home in a baseball park, a ballroom or a cabbage patch, declared today he would get that salary business straightened out as soon as he talked to President Horace C. Stoneham of the New York Giants.

The big first baseman, a sensation a couple of weeks ago when he reigned over a Mardi Gras ball in a costume of rhinestones and satin, scoffed at the idea he could take his troubles to baseball commissioner K. M. Landis.

It had been suggested that as a result of Landis' recent ruling which made free agents of 92 players owned by Detroit, players who thought the management "done 'em wrong" might seek the commissioner's help.

"That's all news to me," said Bonura as he checked off crates of apples being carried from the warehouse of J. Bonura and Son to a waiting truck. "You can't take anything like that to the judge. I wouldn't think of it."

"Listen, everything's going to be all right. They haven't talked contract to me yet. They tried to cut me bad—I won't say how much, but it was bad. But just as soon as Mr. Stoneham and I sit down and talk things over I will all be straightened out."

Bonura received a reported salary of $15,000 last year.

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba Legislature will open February 20, a caucus of government members decided late last night.

Little business of contentious nature is forecast for the session. Certain private members are expected to air their view on delays in payments of farmer bonuses under the agricultural assistance program of the federal government.

Community Chest Report Given

"The 1939 joint Community Chest-Red Cross campaign for funds in Victoria was the best for canvasser coverage that has been held so far—an encouraging indication that future drives will be thorough and therefore successful," Frank Paulding, manager of the campaign, said in a detailed report of the drive to the campaign executive yesterday.

The meeting was held in the board room of the Royal Trust Company and was presided over by Duncan MacBride, campaign chairman.

Following the presentation of the report, Mr. Paulding was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for the efficient manner in which he conducted the campaign.

"The individual canvassers did their work extremely well and should be praised for the efficient manner in which they covered their territories," Mr. Paulding stated.

Thirteen per cent of the 60,000 population of Victoria subscribed to the Community Chest and Red Cross, which was an increase of 3 per cent over the previous year's subscribers. This compared with other cities satisfactorily.

"Public support was most gratifying," he said. "Over 8,000 contributions speaks volumes for the widespread generosity of the general public and the roll call of 664 workers proves that in sacrificial service, this community is not lacking."

Collections to date were $102,146.26 and further subscriptions were expected. Campaign expenses were slightly higher than the previous year due to unavoidable circumstances and partly to extra costs involved in conducting a joint campaign. The percentage, 2.1, however, was regarded as being low, compared with the national average of 3.2.

"In summing up the canvass it can be definitely stated that the combination of Community Chest and Red Cross proved generally very popular, the idea of united effort pleasing canvassers and contributors alike," Mr. Paulding said.

W. P. D. Pemberton gave a report of suggestions received during and since the campaign, which was tabled for further consideration, and F. E. Winslow announced that Miss Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council would visit Victoria on February 6 to give an address on "Welfare Work on the Home Front." Arrangements for the visit were being made by the Council and Social Agencies.

Before the World War the United States imported practically all of its glass for spectacle lenses and optical instruments; now it is far more independent.

Complete Hearing On Chattel Claim

Judgment was reserved by the Court of Appeal yesterday on the appeal of Edward Gold, landlord, against a ruling of Judge Harper, County Court, Vancouver, in favor of the Monarch Securities Ltd., granting that firm a prior claim on possessions of Jeanne and Rene Castellani, tenants of the appellant.

Gold sought possession of goods of the Castellanis for back rent. The Monarch Securities Ltd. declared the firm had a prior claim on the chattels. The company contended its right to the possessions arose from an absolute assignment of the goods to the firm.

by the Castellanis, who were buying them back under a conditional sale agreement. For the appellant P. J. McIntyre stated that if the Monarch Securities Ltd. had any title to the goods, the company secured that title from the tenants and was not protected from the rights of the landlord.

Alfred Bull, K.C., for the respondent, submitted argument to support the finding of the judge in the court below and asked that his ruling be upheld.

Abandons Appeal From Life Term

Abandonment of Harry McMillan's appeal against life sentence, imposed following his conviction on a charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of Woo Dack, Vancouver Chinese, was announced in Court of Appeal here today.

Hon. Archer Martin, Chief Justice of British Columbia, remarked that the registrar had received notice this morning of abandonment of the appeal and stated crown counsel should be informed of the action in order that he might make the formal application for dismissal.

That order is expected to be made by the court on Monday. The case was one of four placed on the peremptory list for today.

The court put to the foot of the list the appeals of Pioneer Miners convicted of an unlawful strike under terms of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act. Appellants in the case are W. J. Cameron, W. A. Paterson, Charles Haddess, Alex Penman, A. M. Cameron and Sam Noland. They were convicted by a stipendiary magistrate and failed on their appeal to a County Court Judge.

SNOW SEEN HERE IN EARLY HOURS

"Old Man Weather" made a feeble attempt at delivering snow to Victoria at an early hour this morning.

A few odd flakes fell starting around 6, according to Meteorological Observatory officials at Gonzales Hill, and continued at intervals until 8. In some of the outlying districts the flakes settled, but in town they immediately turned to water on touching the ground.

The forecast for today and part of tomorrow is fresh northeast to easterly winds, colder with occasional sleet.

The chance of a heavy snowfall within the next two or three days are slim and a freeze-up is not expected.

"I don't think the temperature will change very much," one official said. "It doesn't appear likely that there will be any outdoor skating near the city."

Snow was expected for northern parts of the island, although the fall was not expected to be heavy.

Blames Stuttering For Crime Record

A. G. Champlin, alias Alfred Pine, alias Alphonse Pion was remanded until tomorrow for sentence after he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to two charges of breaking and entering.

Champlin was arrested in Clark's Pharmacy, Pandora Avenue, by Constable Thomas Banister and Ray Maitland when he was found there crouching behind a counter, holding a sack of 58 packages of cigarettes.

The other charge he admitted was entering the home of H. W. Walker, at St. Charles Street, where he stole a ring, flashlight and some liquor.

Eleven previous convictions were read against him, including five breaking and entering charges, dating back to 1922. "When I was young, the first time I was sentenced, I was under a handicap," Champlin told the court. "I have never had a home since I left school, and I could never speak two words without stuttering. I have tried to get work and at times have worked hard, but every job I went after I couldn't get it because I stuttered. I couldn't even sell papers. And if it hadn't been for liquor I wouldn't be in the position I am today. In the morning when I woke up after I was found, I couldn't remember a thing about going into the drug store."

UNITED CHURCH HAS GOOD YEAR

The Victoria West United Church had an excellent year in 1939 from reports submitted at the annual congregational meeting held on Tuesday evening.

All expenses for the year had been paid and a substantial amount had been paid on the church mortgage, the report showed. The missionary and maintenance fund showed an increase over last year, and the Women's Missionary Society allocation had been fully met. Many improvements had been made to the church property.

Rev. C. D. Clarke presided over the meeting and members of the session and board of stewards were chosen as follows:

Session members: Mrs. G. W. Johnson, W. Caley, H. Wilson, A. W. Wright, H. Watson, C. Milley, A. W. Goodwin, G. Weismiller and G. Mitchell.

Board of Stewards: Mrs. George Guy, Miss S. M. Beattie, W. F. Perry, George Guy, H. Watson, Capt. J. W. Gidley, A. W. Wright, W. Caley, Capt. G. M. Newell, W. Moore, William McDonald, G. Weismiller, F. Neelands, A. W. Goodwin, G. Mitchell and F. Forster.

William Caley was elected envelope steward; W. F. Perry, missionary and maintenance steward; Capt. G. M. Newell, trustee representative; A. W. Wright, treasurer; William Caley, clerk of session and L. A. Young, recording steward.

The pastor gave a review of the year's activities, and he was

Dionnes' Spiritual Father Is Visitor

A Roman Catholic bishop whose spiritual flock includes the five most famous little girls in the world, and Canadian soldiers in England, on their way to France, is in Victoria today on a brief visit.

He is Lieut. Col. Rt. Rev. Charles Leo Nelligan, in charge of the Canadian Army's Catholic chaplain service and Bishop of Pembroke, Ontario, in which diocese is Callander, home of the Dionne quintuplets.

Bishop Nelligan and Yvonne, Marie, Cecile, Annette and Emilie are old friends and see each other several times a year.

Last Sunday he paid them a visit and he wore his Canadian army uniform. The small, dark-haired girls were mystified, although they recognized the bishop.

"Who am I?" Bishop Nelligan asked.

"You're the bishop—you, you

RT. REV. C. L. NELLIGAN

look like you're a Mountie," Marie replied in French, and her four sisters agreed.

"They gathered around me two on one side and three on the other," Bishop Nelligan said this morning. "They had a great time examining my military buttons."

"They are sweet, natural children and will probably take their first communion this year."

The bishop can never tell Yvonne and Marie apart, but he knows the other three. Other people are fooled, too, and Marie and Yvonne realize that now and then in playing tricks on their visitors.

Bishop Nelligan flew west with Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham. For three days their plane was unable to get across the Rockies because of weather conditions.

"My plans are all upset," His Lordship said today. "I intended to remain here two or three days, but now I must fly back to Vancouver this afternoon. Naturally I'm disappointed because I've never before been to the coast."

VISITS NAVY, ARMY

From the steamer this morning Bishop Nelligan went to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he said his mass in the chapel and had breakfast. Rev. Father A. B. Wood, chaplain to the navy, met him at the hospital and took him to the Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C. at Work Point, and Capt. V. G. Brodeur, in command of the naval forces at Esquimalt. He remained to luncheon with Capt. Brodeur at the "Admiral's House," Esquimalt dockyard. Bishop John C. Cody was not in town today and was unable to greet Bishop Nelligan.

"I expect to go overseas within the next six months—I must visit my men overseas as a bishop making a tour of his diocese—some may wish confirmation," he said.

Seek Action On Miller Appeal

The Crown today sought to bring the appeal of Sidney W. Miller, Vancouver broker, before the Court of Appeal without delay, but appellant's counsel, G. E. McCrossan, K.C., applied for at least two weeks in which to prepare his case, and asked that the hearing be transferred to the Vancouver sitting of the court.

Miller was convicted last month by Judge C. J. McIntosh in Vancouver County Court on charges of conspiring with J. W. McLeod to defraud the public and shareholders of the Freehold Oil Corporation Limited and the Hargal Oils Limited.

The court will deliberate the motion and give judgment soon.

From a volume production standpoint, British Columbia's logging industry in 1939 had regained the level of 1929. It was shown by provincial log scale figures for the year, completed today.

Scale for the year was 3,155,371,995 board feet of saw logs, 15,869,389 lineal feet of poles and piling, 199,976 cords and 719,803 hewn ties.

The 1929 scale, highest previous record, was 2,940,307,842 board feet, 39,453,489 lineal feet, 153,080 cords and 3,526,085 hewn ties. Last year's scale represented an increase of 574,000,000 board feet over the 1938 scale, the gain being more than 20 per cent. There was a small decrease in other categories, however, the 1938 figures being 16,549,381 lineal feet, 170,632 cords and 1,252,748 hewn ties.

The steady expansion of the cut is shown in the board-foot scale for the last six years, which follows: 1934, 2,056,946,749; 1935, 2,462,435,305; 1936, 2,823,757,655; 1937, 3,035,552,896; 1938, 2,581,278,615; 1939, 3,155,371,995. While in volume logging was back to the 1939 level, values were lower, so that the dollar output of the lumbering industry has not yet reached the boom proportions.

McTavish Heads Agriculturists

Alderman D. D. McTavish was re-elected president of the B.C. Agricultural Association at the annual meeting held last night in the City Hall council chamber.

Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., was elected first vice-president; R. Rendie, second vice-president; E. M. Whyte, third vice-president; A. D. Paterson, Ladner, fourth vice-president, and T. K. Harrop, fifth vice-president.

George W. Malcolm and Warren W. Martin, with Aldermen Bob Dewar, Archie Wills and Lloyd Morgan, representing the City Council, were named as the executive. The aldermen were named at a recent meeting of the council.

The 40 members of the advisory board were re-elected, with the exception of Commander C. H. R. Slingsby being named to replace the late R. M. Palmer and Charlie Cresswell taking the place of Mr. Martin, who was moved to an executive post.

Lieutenant Governor E. W. Hamber was again chosen as patron. Honorary presidents elected were: Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa; Hon. K. C. MacDonald, B.C. Minister of Agriculture, and R. W. Mayhew, M.P.

Reports submitted indicated that the 1939 fall fair was a success, with exhibits being large and of fine quality. Livestock entries were larger than in previous years.

The meeting set September 7 to 14, inclusive, as the dates for the 1940 exhibition at the Willows.

Votes of thanks to W. H. Mearns, manager, and his assistant, Mrs. J. McDonald, for their valuable work during the year, were expressed by the meeting. It was decided to present George Sangster, former manager and a member in the association of long standing, with a life membership.

The financial statement showed the association finished the year with a balance of $5,502.80 on hand, $3,000 of which went to repay the bank loan.

Total receipts were $38,117.53, including $9,219.35 in provincial and federal government grants; $10,420.37 from gate receipts, which included $2,000 from the Victoria Sports Centre for rental of the building, $8,890.57 for privileges, rents and concessions, and $1,928.35 entry fees.

Total disbursements were $32,614.73. Sundry disbursements totaled $1,644.30, including $432.65 for banquet and entertainment. Total office expense was $4,122.50. Prizes given at the fair cost $16,090.07. Maintenance and repairs cost $3,895.91.

Major Wheadon Named President

Members of Victoria Unit No. 12 of the Army and Navy Veterans at their annual meeting last night elected Major T. R. Wheadon as their president for 1940. He succeeds Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown.

E. Espley was the choice for first vice-president, and W. Crowther was elected second vice-president. J. Crabbe was named sergeant-at-arms.

The executive committee comprises T. Jones, J. R. Mountain, A. H. Finlinton, H. Hume, S. Moulit, C. Morrison, G. Gardiner, C. W. Morton, J. H. Warriner and J. Green.

T. Jones, Brig. Brown, Major Wheadon and G. Duckitt were appointed as delegates to the Dominion and provincial commands of the unit.

J. Food was named the unit's delegate to the Remembrance Day committee.

After expressing thanks to members for the honor they had bestowed upon him, Major Wheadon officiated at the ceremony of presenting Brig. Brown with the past-president's badge.

In his annual statement, Jack Rivers, secretary, pointed out that this year marked a century of service by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. He congratulated officers, the executive and the general membership on the steady progress made by the unit in the past year.

The finances of the club were in splendid shape, his report showed. The unit's benevolent activities in the interests of veterans and the community since 1918 had amounted to more than $35,000, Mr. Rivers said.

The membership had over-reached the 400 mark, the report showed.

Eight tons of reading matter was donated by the public and sent to troops in active service by the branch. The unit's "Art a Mo" concert party, formed to entertain troops, had given weekly entertainments at forts in the outlying districts and also gave a special concert for visiting British sailors. February 15 was set as the date for the annual reunion banquet of members. It will be held in Spencer's dining-room.

Pays for Offence He Didn't Commit

Motorists who sell their cars and fail to register the transfer of ownership are liable for any traffic infraction committed by the new owners until the register of transfer has been completed, and as a result a man was fined $2.50 for a parking violation for which he was not responsible when he appeared in City Police Court this morning.

The traffic offence occurred on January 6. The man sold his car on December 16, but the transfer was not registered until January 8. In accordance with the Motor Vehicle Act the original owner, who continued to hold possession on January 6 according to B.C. Police records, was held responsible and convicted on the charge.

Sensational Drug
Film at Plaza

The "Assassin of Youth," coming
Monday to the Plaza Theatre, is a picture that portrays the ravages of the Marijuana weed. It is a type of picture that is entirely different and new. It deals with the deadly drug as it is being used by the modern youth of today.

The picture was screened in various states and has the endorsement of the women's clubs and numerous educational bodies, and it is a picture that teaches a vital lesson and should be seen by everyone.

OAK BAY THEATRE

As an amateur mother endeavoring to bring up a foundinging who everyone think is hers in
"Bachelor Mother," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, Ginger Rogers displays a brand of comedy reminiscent of her role in "Vivacious Lady." Garson Kanin, hailed for his brilliant direction of "A Man To Remember" and "The Great Man Votes," guided "Bachelor Mother" with David Niven in the co-starring lead opposite Ginger.

PLAZA THEATRE

The rich, modern luxurious settings and backgrounds of the 20th Century-Fox production, "The Baroness and the Butler," reflect in correct detail the high European social circle in which the two chief actors move during the action of the story. Debonair
William Powell and Annabella, Europe's loveliest personality, are co-starred in the screen hit, now at the Plaza Theatre. They are the direction and sets of "The Baroness and the Butler" are by Bernard Herzbrun, Hans Peters and Thomas Little.

Potato Market
Rising Steadily

VANCOUVER (CP)—S. H.
Ford, vice-president of the British Columbia Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, Wednesday said heavy exports have caused the board to increase potato prices by $1 to $2 a ton.

Ford said exports to New Zealand, Australia, Hongkong and South America have been heavy as have been shipments to the Canadian prairies.

Vancouver consumers will now pay $1.90 per 100-pound sack for coast-grown No. 1 potatoes plus a 10-cent delivery charge, and $1.70 per sack for No. 2 grade, plus the delivery charge.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—Pressure continues high over northern Alberta and a shallow depression appears to be approaching Vancouver Island from the southwest.
The weather has been showery on the British Columbia coast while over the interior it is fair and considerably colder. Temperature has moderated slightly in the prairie

'ETERNALLY YOURS'
DOMINION SHOW

With Loretta Young and David Niven starred as the romantic team, Walter Wanger's new comedy romance, "Eternally Yours," was presented at the Dominion
Theatre under the United Artists banner. The new picture is one of the finest and funniest pictures to issue from Hollywood in many months, and definitely takes its place as one of the season's top-notch films.

"Eternally Yours" was directed by Tay Garnett, which means that it has showmanship, tempo, verve, excitement and thrills. It is a comedy romance in the best sense of the word—its dialogue is sharp, crisp, and witty; its scenes are a delightful blend of romance, comedy and drama; it moves with pace and suspense; it is photographed with imagination and beauty. In fact, special mention must be made of the background shots and special effects which have been woven into the story with remarkable realism.

In support of the two stars,
"Eternally Yours" has a featured cast, including Billie Burke, Zasu
Pitts, Hugh Herbert, Broderick
Crawford and Ralph Graves, and each in turn must be credited with excellent performances.

'Another Thin Man'
Coming to Capitol

William Powell and Myrna Loy, long hailed as the screen's most popular "Mr. and Mrs." team, come to the Capitol Theatre
starting tomorrow in "Another Thin Man," third of the scintillating detective series which has swept the nation with a shower of laughs.

The story of "Another Thin Man" combines a puzzling and intriguing murder mystery with the happy, gay and sometimes hectic married life of Nick and Nora Charles, the detective pair whom Powell and Miss Loy created so delightfully in the first picture of the series.

Others in the supporting cast include Virginia Grey, Otto Kruger,
C. Aubrey Smith, Ruth Hussey,
Nat. Pendleton, Patric Knowles and Tom Neal, with a night-club scene featuring two famous Broadway dance acts,
Rene, Estela and Carmen.

Ruth Draper In Character Study

January 29 and 30 are dates for the forthcoming engagement of Ruth Draper at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Miss Draper's appearance in her famous character sketches never fails to provide a stirring and delightful evening in the theatre. Those who have had the pleasure of enjoying her performances have learned to look forward with lively anticipation to the changing moods in which Miss Draper presents her character studies. Sometimes a certain character is lengthened in a particular sketch or it may be merely a change in emphasis.
These changes are usually the result of Miss Draper's highly-developed sensitivity towards the moods of her audiences, but in any event there is never any variation in the perfection of her presentations.

Ruth Draper will devote the entire net proceeds of her present
Canadian tour to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

CADET THEATRE

Sixty-two sets, ranging in size from a sentry-box no larger than a telephone booth, to a huge cathedral and two castles, were constructed for the David O. Sel-znick picture, "The Prisoner of Zenda," which is now at the Cadet
Theatre, with Ronald Colman,
Madeleine Carroll and Douglas
Fairbanks Jr. in the leading roles.

A Short History of Russia

10—Stalin Slowly Built Up His Power

Some of the facts about Josef Stalin have become known fairly widely. He was born in a part of Russia called Georgia, and is not a true Russian. "Stalin" is a nickname, and means "steel." Stalin's family name was a long one—Dzhughashvili.

Stalin at the age of about 35.

While Lenin was alive, Stalin was one of his helpers, but was not in nearly such a high place as Leon Trotsky.

We are told that Lenin kept thinking of what might happen in Russia after his death, and that he made out a "will." In this will, he is supposed to have warned the Russians against letting too much power get into Stalin's hands.

If there really was such a will, it did not become known to most of the Russian people when Lenin died. Possibly Stalin obtained control of it, and destroyed it. Stalin works behind the scenes. Slowly but surely, over a period of several years, he built up his power and drove his enemies from office. Today he does not hold a government office, but he is secretary of the Communist Party. It is believed that officers of the government do just what Stalin wants them to do.

Chief among the enemies of Stalin was Trotsky, who had been a great hero of the Russian people. Trotsky was driven into exile, and of late has been living in Mexico.

Other enemies of Stalin have been put to death in Russia. Often the excuse has been that they were friendly to Trotsky, or to his ideas.

Until five months ago, most persons inside and outside of Russia believed Stalin was steering the country on a road to peace. Then came a treaty with Hitler which made many suspect he was plotting war, though the nation's spokesmen said Russia still wanted to stay at peace.

About seven weeks ago, the world was shocked when Russia began striking blows at Finland, a little republic which had been part of Russia until the World War.

During the coming week, I plan to write something about the history of Finland, and about the Finns' bold defence of their homeland.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—For 10 years I was a very happily married man. Then I discovered that my wife was having an affair with a married man who had a wife and two children. Both she and the man obtained divorces and married, and I had not heard from her for 10 years until recently she came to the city in which I live and asked me to come to see her. When I saw her she told me of the life of misery she had lived for years and begged me to take her back. She has one child, aged six, by this second marriage. I have always loved her and I suppose I always will, but I do not believe that I could be happy in a second marriage to her. I can't stand to see her living a life of unhappiness, but should I be the goat?

WORRIED BILL

Answer: Once a goat, always a goat. We human goats can no more develop a backbone than the leopard can change its spots. We will always be softies who will let selfish people impose upon us, and I dare say that you will be so sorry for this woman who has ruined your life once that you will let her ruin it again by remarrying her.

Your guardian angel is warning you now that there will be no happiness in such a marriage, because you know that you cannot trust her and that she never loved you and never will. Evidently the second marriage went bloomy and she wants to marry you for a home and security for herself and her child.

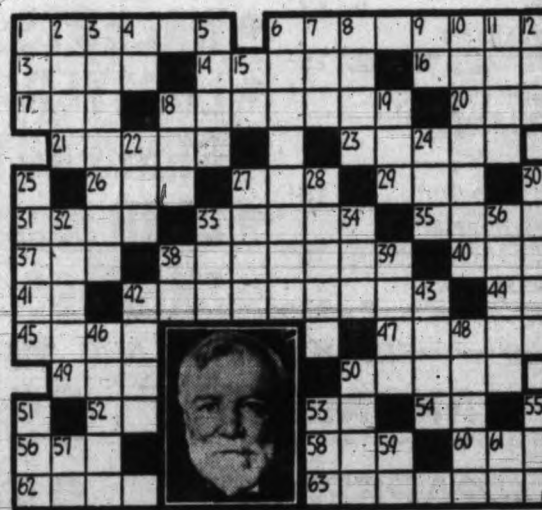

DEAR MISS DIX—How long should a woman give a man to make up his mind about whether he wants to marry her? I have been going with one for seven years who still talks about what we will do when we are married in some indefinite future, but he never asks me to name the wedding day. He is able to support a family.

ANXIOUS

Answer: I think the time limit is up. The man who puts off marriage for seven years is never going to marry. He is just stalling. Give him the air and find some man whose attentions are with intentions.

Start Trial For Robbery

Trial of two young men charged with participation in the early morning robbery of the Brentwood Mercantile Ltd. opened in Saanich Police Court yesterday.

John Krisko and Frank Dunnegan, two of the four arrested for the crime, pleaded not guilty. Charles Brown entered a plea of guilty. George Paton, the fourth, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft. The other three were charged with breaking and entering.

Krisko and Dunnegan were not represented by counsel. The trial will continue this afternoon at 2.15 at Royal Oak. Brown and Paton will also appear for sentence.

From Maurice Atkins, proprietor of the store; Monty Gore-Langton and Dorothy Sluggitt and Saanich police officers, the court heard how a truck used in the robbery was trailed for four and a half miles along Saanich roads before it was found near Prospect Lake, not far from the spot where Constables Cecil Pearce and Bert Pearson arrested the accused on the old interurban right-of-way.

Mr. Atkins testified the safe and goods valued at $370 were stolen from the store, which was entered by drilling two holes in the back door and forcing it.

Mr. Gore-Langton and Miss Sluggitt said they saw the truck at the rear of the store and heard voices as it was being loaded. When the machine drove away they followed for a time before Mr. Atkins had appeared on the scene and taken up the chase.

The arrest of the four accused was described by Constable Pearce, who, with Chief J. Bull and other members of the department, formed a cordon around the area in which the four were known to be. Footprints at the scene of the arrest led back to where the truck was parked, he testified.

Quick Relief From STOMACH PAIN

To neglect pain and distress in the stomach, however slight, is to court serious trouble. Such disturbance is usually due to excess acid attacking the delicate stomach lining. At the first hint of pain or distress, take Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Its four properly balanced and potent alkalies neutralize the excess acid, soothe the stomach, stop pain, aid elimination of fermenting waste and protect the stomach walls against the biting attack of the acid. Get a bottle and keep it handy. Be sure to ask for Maclean Brand Stomach Powder, which is only genuine if the signature "Alex. C. Maclean" appears on bottle and carton. It is not sold loose, but only in bottles in cartons—75¢; family size, $1.75.
